COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1949. 138th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 31. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1949. No. 37.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, March 30, 1949.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. JOHN F. KNITTLE, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and ever-loving God, Who hast given to them that believe exceedingly great and precious promises, and Who makest all things to work together for good to them who love Thee, grant us, we pray, a steadfast faith in Thy Son, our Redeemer and Lord, a cheerful hope in Thy mercy, and a sincere love of Thee and our fellowmen.

Impressed with the greatness of our responsibilities and of the trust and confidence that has been reposed in us in the gift of our fellowmen who have called us to serve them, may there be inspired within us right motives and may we be given the strength to obey the dictates of conscience free from all personal desires and prompted by a sense of patriotism and of charity toward all men.

We humbly bow in reverence before Thee as the deliberations of this Assembly are about to begin, to lead us in the performance of duty and to enact that which will meet Thy favor and merit Thy approval in the decisions to be made.

Strengthen our resolution that in all things we shall give Thee the pre-eminence until Thou shalt become for all peoples the King of King's and Lord of Lord's.

We offer unto Thee these our petitions in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 436, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, would the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, please advise his reasons for asking that the bill go over in order?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, this bill came out of committee yesterday afternoon, without any opportunity to study the bill, and since yesterday I received a number of calls from Pittsburgh, from people who wish to contact me, to explain certain features of this bill.

Personally, Mr. President, I do not know a thing about it myself, but I would like to have the privilege of talking with these people from Pittsburgh between now and Monday if possible, and then you can pass your bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say this to the gentleman from Cambria, that this bill is the result of an arrangement that has been worked out with the Department of Welfare and the Medical School of the University of Pittsburgh to turn over to the University of Pittsburgh, for purposes of operation, the Western Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute, as part of the Medical Center at the University of Pittsburgh. The details of this thing have been very carefully prepared by the Medical School, the Department of Welfare, the Appropriations Committee from the House, the Appropriations Committee from the Senate, the Governor's Office, the Budget Director, and the Attorney General. There have been a series of conferences between and among these various proponents, individual groups and institutions represented, to the end that this thing can be promulgated and taken advantage of at the earliest possible moment. It is of vital importance to the people back home.

Mr. President, the University of Pittsburgh Medical School is exerting every effort to have available a staff to take the Institution over at the earliest possible moment.

I appreciate the concern of the gentleman from Cambria that some people back home tried to talk to him about the bill. Mr. President, we have here in the Senate a number of Members of the Senate who are from Allegheny County, and my co-sponsor of the bill, Senator Barr, who also is a fellow alumnus of the University of Pittsburg, and I have worked very closely with the University and with the people in Allegheny County concerning this bill, and we have had nothing but the highest commendation and praise for the purposes that will result by reason of this. All three metropolitan newspapers in Pittsburgh are very much in favor of this proposed turning over of the Western Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute to Pitt. Personally I can see no purpose in the delay, because we are moving the Eastern Psychiatric Institute along also, and I would suggest, in all sincerity, that the gentleman from Cambria permit us to go ahead and pass this bill, because we are anxious to have it go to the House where it must be approved.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have not studied this bill very closely, and I do not know just what is contained in it, but as I said previously some people in Pittsburgh wish to contact me to explain the bill to them. First of all, may I say, Mr. President, I believe in this cause, but I see no immediate rush to pass this bill today, and I have had an honest request to have it go over in order. I might say if I thought it imperative to have it passed today, I would withdraw my objection, but it is not that imperative.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to call the gentleman's attention to the fact that this bill was introduced by myself and Senator Barr on March 2nd, and at that time it was referred to the Senate Committee on State Government. On March 8th the bill was reported as committed, it passed first reading on March 8th, passed second reading on March 9th, and was then re-referred to the Senate Committee on Appropriations. The bill has been available all during that time, and while I have no desire to rush the gentleman from Cambria into consideration of any legislation that is before this body, the sponsors of this bill are very desirous to send it over to the House, because we would like to have it passed this Session.

Mr. HALUSKA. It may be true that this bill was introduced in the early days of March, but certainly none of us pay too much attention to bills that are in Committee, not having any knowledge as to whether they are coming out of Committee. We have some 2,000 bills introduced in this Session, and I see no good reason why we should study all those bills.

As I said, I see no need for all this rush, but if the gentleman from Allegheny thinks it is so important and imperative that this bill pass today, I shall withdraw my objection.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to say to the Members of the Senate that I am voting in favor of this bill for two reasons. The first and foremost reason is based upon the fact that I believe that I can take a little of the credit for originally conceiving the idea of this particular piece of legislation, especially because I believe that it is the only method that can be employed for the construction of super speed roads in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania without placing an undue burden upon the ordinary taxpayer.

Mr. President, I believe that the original turnpike from Irwin to Middlesex has proven to be a great engineering feat; it has also proven to those of us who were in at the beginning of the year of 1935, when the original turnpike was conceived, it was proven that our judgment at that time was right. We felt then that a great many persons who do not reside in the state of Pennsylvania are using Pennsylvania roads, and because of this great influx of out-of-state trucks and cars, Pennsylvania was in the position of needing a greater road system.

Mr. President, I understand from the Turnpike Commission that forty-eight cents out of every income dollar of the Pennsylvania Turnpike is derived from out-of-state trucks and cars; that being the case, there is every justification for the extension of the Turnpike. Early in the Session, in making a talk to the Senate, I said that I opposed the one cent gasoline tax increase, because of the fact that I felt that the money was going to be spent for super speed roads with restricted approaches, and felt that that type of road must of necessity be built from tolls; whereever we build a toll road that parallels a free road, we are not denying any citizens who pay the regular road taxes to the Commonwealth the services that they are paying for, but to those who want to travel on a more direct route and at a greater speed than what our law allows in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon the regular road system, we are saying to them that for a certain fee they can use a high speed road.

Now, Mr. President, I am very very proud of the fact that in spite of the early criticism, I was part of the group that had the courage to put the Turnpike bill upon the statutes of Pennsylvania. I advanced the proposition early in the Session that we ought to study the possibilities of creating a Turnpike road from Erie onto the western terminus of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, and additional turnpike construction down to Pittsburgh, through Washington and down towards Wheeling, West Virginia, from the New York state line to the West Virginia state line. In that bill, Mr. President, I also asked for a complete study of the possibility of creating a turnpike from the New York state line down through Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, through Harrisburg, onto the present turnpike right of way, and then down towards Baltimore, Maryland, or between New York and Maryland. I also asked that the study contain within its scope the possibilities of the construction of a road from Erie through the Northern tier of the central part of Pennsylvania, to the present turnpike line in and around Harrisburg. I believe that if we do this, Mr. President, we will save the future generations of Pennsylvania untold millions of dollars which will have of necessity been spent by the Pennsylvania Highway Department to construct these necessary roads and to maintain the same.

Mr. President, I am not particularly anxious to congratulate the sponsorship of this particular bill as I find it upon the Calendar, because, although all of us state we do not have pride of authorship and do not care particularly about having our names engraved upon the legislation before us, there is a certain amount of vanity in all of us, and I confess to all of the noble weaknesses of the human race, but I am a little disappointed in that the gentleman from Erie found it convenient to get his hand into the cookie jar and come out with a taste of the sweetness and left the bitterness for the rest of us who sponsored the original bill.

Now, Mr. President, I say to Senator Blass, Senator Doehla and Senator Mahany, I am glad to see my bill go through with your names on it. I am sure, Mr. President, it will not matter much to the future generations of Pennsylvania who travel upon this road as to who sponsored the bill, and I am glad and happy to go along.

I just want to say, Mr. President, that if in the future I have any other brilliant ideas on legislation, I will consult the Majority side and ask if it is all right if I introduce the bill.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I could not let this go unanswered, because I want the gentleman from Westmoreland to feel that we always invite his full and complete cooperation, and we are very thankful for it on this occasion. In fact, I did not have the slightest intention to overlook anybody because of the ideas he promulgated early in the Session. I very much welcomed the fact that he was contemplating a study of three great toll routes, but I did want this route constructed at the earliest possible moment, particularly this section, which will enable us to come from Erie to Harrisburg at least.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am very glad to say that I would welcome his co-sponsorship as well as the co-sponsorship of every colleague on the floor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to congratulate the distinguished Senator from Erie County, and I sincerely hope and trust that the passage of this legislation will greatly assist him in his candidacy for Lieutenant Governor.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure that the gentleman from Erie will take judicial notice of that remark.

Mr. LANE. However, Mr. President, I agree and yet I disagree with the sentiments which were expressed upon the floor here today, and I say to you that I for one am going to oppose the passage of this bill. I took the position in the early part of the Session that the vast expenditure of public funds at this particular time is unwarranted and unnecessary, and we are not giving the taxpayers a break, and I hope that the membership on both sides of the Senate will take this into consideration and express themselves when the bill is up for final passage here today.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, before the roll is called on this bill, I would like to say to the Members of the Senate that this is another one of the amendments for re-codification of the Fiduciaries Code which was started in 1945. A group of very distinguished citizens of Pennsylvania who are not Members of the General Assembly have devoted a great many hours of their time and talent to the re-codification of what we call in law the seventh sister acts of our Orphans Court practice. They have been unselfishly devoted to promulgating for future generations of Pennsylvanians one of the finest Orphans Court Code in this great republic. Those of us who are voting for this bill are merely putting our stamp of approval on a very fine work and certainly shall be a memorial to the men who have devoted so much of their time and effort to it.

Mr. President, I want them to know that we here in the Senate deeply appreciate their contribution to this legal cause.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to explain to the Members of the Senate this motion to commit which we are about to make. On the Senate Calendar today there are three bills, all of them dealing with the same subject matter, to wit, a Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article 8 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section providing for absentee voting by bedridden or hospitalized war veterans. On page 17 of the Calendar there is also Senate Bill No. 222 sponsored by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Senator Donlan. The bill now under consideration is sponsored by the gentleman from Chester, Senator Scarlett. Also on the Senate Calendar is House Bill 304, Printer's No. 68, co-sponsored by Dr. Sarraf and George Cooper of the House, both from Allegheny County, each of whom are representatives of different major political parties and inasmuch as all three bills contain the same subject matter, and the one bill has already passed the House, it was determined in the Republican Caucus that we would accept the House measure and proceed to act upon it and withdraw the bills sponsored by Senator Scarlett and Senator Donlan.

Mr. President, this recommendation is approved by the sponsors of the two Senate bills that will be recommitted today, because they are more interested in achieving the results to be obtained rather than the pride of authorship in the bill, and we appreciate very much their cooperation in attempting to give to the hospitalized war veterans the opportunity of having absentee voting.

SENATE BILL No. 654 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up, on page 7 of the Third Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 654, for consideration at this time.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 654, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article fourteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section abolishing county offices in Philadelphia and providing for the performance of county functions by the City of Philadelphia

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Rosenfeld, who is very much interested in this bill, is very ill at this time. He has asked me to appeal his case to this Body to have this bill go over until Monday. Now we have always extended that courtesy to our colleagues. I see no immediate rush in passing this bill today. I know nothing about it. However, I do feel, because of the request of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Rosenfeld, that the majority should grant that request, and I trust that they will, on behalf of my appeal for Senator Rosenfeld, allow this bill to go over until Monday afternoon.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am very sorry that I cannot agree to the request of the gentleman from Cambria. I appreciate the fact that Senator Rosenfeld is deeply interested in this legislation, and I know that every Member of the Senate, as well as the personnel, are sorry and sympathize with him in his illness. Unfortunately, the problem of legislation and problems of the kind we are trying to settle, give me no choice in the matter, and I am obliged at this time to insist that the Senate consider at this time Senate Bill No. 654.

Mr. President, I trust I will have the opportunity of extending to Senator Rosenfeld my very sincere apologies in person on his return to the Senate Monday, but I know that he has campaigned for a long time, and he will understand that this is simply a matter of necessity.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, one of the most untimely of all of nature's hours for the delivery of speeches in the Senate of Pennsylvania is 6:30 in the evening, because most of the Senators are hungry and tired, and they are not in the mood to listen to speeches.

Mr. President, I intend to deliver a speech on this measure and I do not want to bore my colleagues and encroach upon their hours of rest. For that reason, I would suggest that the bill go over until tomorrow so that I can entertain them tomorrow with my speech.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I know of no other Member of this august body that I would rather listen to than to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel. His learned discussions on matters pertaining to legislation have been a source of information and enjoyment to all of us. I do not know what other cocktail I would enjoy more than a 6:30 speech from the gentleman at this time.

However, Mr. President, as deeply as it grieves me, I must decline to postpone action on this bill, and I ask that the bill be considered at this time. If the gentleman cares to, we will now have his 6:30 message.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I still believe that the gentlemen on the other side are entitled to their rest, and I would suggest that we adjourn until nine o'clock, at which time I will be here to entertain the crowd.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, perhaps I should get this down to the language I understand the most. We will not postpone action on this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I know that it is imperative that the bill be passed while the Republican City Chairman of Philadelphia is in the room, and I think it is proper to do so in order that full and just credit be given to those who are doing the expediting here this afternoon. However, there are some things that have always remained in the Senate that I hope we do not lose sight of today. I have never yet been put in the position where a Member of either side of the Senate has asked for a courtesy that cannot be extended without costing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a cent or a moment of worry or unrest.

Mr. President, Senator Rosenfeld has from the very beginning of this Session been selected as our chief spokesman on this particular legislation. Senator Stiefel and he have worked together in order that they would be able to take this piece of legislation and give the Minority viewpoint. It is distinctly unfair, Mr. President, while Senator Rosenfeld is sick at home, to have passed this legislation in his absence. There is not anything that we can do to this legislation that will have anything to do with the ultimate fate of the legislation.

The only position, Mr. President, I am trying to put to the Chair and to the Members of the Senate is that a man is entitled to be heard when he feels so deeply about a subject that affects his particular Senatorial District, whether it be a Republican or a Democrat. I have never yet been in a position where that courtesy has been denied. I do not think the Members of the Senate want to start a precedent now that may come back later and haunt each and every one of us.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, again I apologize very humbly to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent. Up to this point he and I have not differed on anything except the selection of horses at Bowie.

Mr. President, I regret that this slight difference of opinion arises. I know that he appreciates the fact, as I said to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, that we are very, very sorry about Senator Rosenfeld's illness, but we must insist upon action on the bill at this time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, we have kindly asked that this bill go over. It seems that might makes right in this body Oftentimes we wonder why the Minority is compelled to resort to the Constitution to receive their protection, and we have Members here right now who want the bills read at length.

Mr. President, once again we will start something that is uncalled for. Our request is very, very mild. We are asking for one day's delay to keep harmony in this body. I see no good reason why it cannot be granted, and I think it is very unfair and uncourteous. Certainly no harm can be done by extending this Senatorial courtesy, and putting the bill over for one day. So, if we are compelled to avail ourselves of our constitutional right, please do not feel offended.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, out at the University of Pittsburgh we use the single wing formation. We have found it very effective in power plays. Some people say that it is not very good for deception, especially on a screen pass. I know, Mr. President, that you will understand, when I say that I yield the floor to the distinguished quarterback from the City of Philadelphia, Senator Kephart.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I, too, am very sorry about Senator Rosenfeld's illness. However, I do not think that it would detract from any publicity that he might get. He has already spoken on these bills in Philadelphia over radio and television, and at several dinner meetings, and he could not say any more now than he has already said, and all his tactics on those occasions have been in the category of obstructionism. He and some other Democrats are trying to obstruct this program, and this is just another step in that direction.

Now, Mr. President, I am willing to yield to that obstructionism until Monday if that is what they want.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, there are times when words are used in the heat of a battle on the floor of the Senate that would be better left unsaid. These are not tactics of obstructionism. They are the normal tactics in a legislative body.

Mr. President, every time a motion is made to recommit a piece of legislation or to hold a bill on the calendar, it is termed obstructionism, then we can justly accuse the Majority Side of acting in an obstructionistic manner on the question of the nurses legislation that is upon the calendar, and being held over until Monday. None of us on this Side questioned the motives behind that. I think all of us felt that the Majority were acting in its wisdom, and we like to have the same credit but whether our wisdom measures up to that of the Majority, we do not know, but whatever it is we are stuck with it.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, just to clarify the situation, I do not believe in clairvoyance because sometimes you are mistaken. Now, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, tried to engage in clairvoyance, and made a mistake.

Mr. President, we are not going to obstruct Senate Bill No. 654. As a matter of fact, it was our intention to vote for the measure, but we felt we would like to delve into this measure and look into all the phases thereof. Now, for that reason I believe that he should withdraw the word "obstructionism."

I am very happy that he yielded, and agreed to postpone it until Monday.

Mr. President, I remember a balmy evening in April 1937, when the late Senator Clarence Buckman questioned one of our stalwarts. He questioned him about a very perplexing bill pertaining to the sinking fund of Philadelphia, and our Member was very reluctant to discuss it, so he got up and in all candor he said, "Senator Buckman, what's the use of arguing? We have the votes, and that is the end of it."

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am now in a position after the elegant speeches by all of the gentlemen from Philadelphia, to request, if there are no objections from the Minority, that Senate Bill 654, Printer's Number 166, go over in order.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 654, on third reading, go over in its order.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend D. Frederick Wertz, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for this hour, pregnant with peril, but poignant with promise.

Teach us the difference between the clear call of conscience and the catcalls of confusion. And when we know the difference, give us enough backbone to stand for the right.

Save us from our selfish pride. Save us for sacrificial service.

Bless with Thy presence the deliberations of this hour. May the light of Thy truth illumine the dark paths of discord and misunderstanding. Then may discord dissolve into harmony and misunderstanding give way to mutual concern for the welfare of humanity, in the Spirit of Christ. Amen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think that after such a lovely dinner and such a lovely time as we had last night, while we cannot make it an action of the House, I feel that the Committee on Saint Patrick's dinner should be congratulated.

I think it was one of the best dinners we ever had; the Chairman did a wonderful job and the toast master, Cap Cummings, as always also did a wonderful job, I think one of the things that helped the dinner to be so successful was the fact that we had quite an array of home talent. In fact, I did not realize our friend Ole Olson was a better Irish tenor than a Norwegian tenor; he was a real Irish tenor and did a real, wonderful job in singing.

Mr. Speaker, I do not think a lot of the Members of the House realized that we have so much talent in the House, I don't believe that anyone in the House has ever heard a genuine Kosher Quartet sing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." I understand it was strictly Kosher. I think it was perfectly lovely.

One thing that I did feel badly about was the fact that one of the members from Philadelphia, I noticed, was not feeling quite so good; he did not carry his burdens so well. I think the whole committee should be congratulated for the wonderful time we had and for the wonderful dinner they furnished to us.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ROSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, may I say in all due modesty that the quartet which the gentleman spoke about consisted of one fine singer and three individuals who dragged down the harmony.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to read the following telegram for the purpose of the record?

"Pittsburgh Penn 29

Hon Maurice L. Reynolds Member House of Representatives House Post Office Harrisburg Penn

The Allegheny County Sportsmen's League, voice of 153,518 licensed hunters and fishermen, is both unequivocally and unqualifiedly opposed to the vicious and pernicious legislation provided in House Bill 750 or any amendment thereto. It is the most noxious and venomous bill presented to either branch of our General Assembly in this session.

W E GUCKERT, Executive Secretary"

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker that is rather an informative telegram, I will admit that. I don't know why including Members of the legislature on importation commissions, with no right to vote, is pernicious and obnoxious, or what ever it is in the way of adjectives. It is my opinion that the Members who sit here in this House know very well what is right and what is wrong. I believe that they have a perfect right to know and to understand the internal workings of any board, commission, or any other organization established by the Legislature.

I understand the position very thoroughly of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Reynolds. I would have expected it and am glad that he read that communication into the record in order to keep himself clear with his friends at home. This communication, is perfectly all right. If you gentlemen think that we, as Members of the Legislature, have a right to know the internal workings of these boards or commissions, then vote for this bill. If you think that it is none of our business and that our presence there would be to the detriment of the people of the Commonwealth, or would be a detriment to the sportsmen of the Commonwealth, then vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. Speaker, we have had experience in the last six years under this bill, and there are Members on the floor of this House and in the Senate who have appointed under a like bill on the Aeronautics Commission of the state of Pennsylvania. We have found it very enlightening, we have found it very helpful, we have found that when the commission comes to the Legislature with legislative problems that we have someone to whom we can go and get the facts as they actually exist, as they have been observed and seen from month to month as the commission met in regular session. You will note if you go back over that particular bill that the Governor was cognizant of the fact that there should be minority representation on these boards, and you will find that Senator Dent from Westmoreland County is a member of the Aeronautics Commission as a legislative representative, and I am sure if he is contacted as the minority representative he will give you a favorable report on the operations of this type of liaison between boards, commissions and so forth that this Legislature creates, and the Legislature itself.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, this is not the first time that I have had to disagree with the sender of this telegram. I happen to know him personally.

The question I want to raise right now is this; as I recall it, this bill was amended in its final form last Thursday. Are we to assume that since that time the gentleman has contacted 153,518 sportsmen in Allegheny County, because, as I recall the telegram says it speaks for that number of sportsmen. I personally want to agree with what the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen states. This is a very good bill, and I ask the Members of this House to support the bill.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am in opposition to this bill, not for the reasons stated in the telegram read by my colleague from Allegheny, but I believe that we are embarking on something that is definitely a step in the wrong direction.

I see no reason why the General Assembly after having delegated these powers to these boards and commissions should then place on these boards and commissions a Member of the General Assembly who has no power but to sit there utilizing the space and wasting time and becoming a kind of overlord. I believe definitely we are taking a step in the wrong direction.

I know that the gentleman from Indiana has had experience with his commission, the Aeronautics Commission. However, there may be some reason in the commission that he sponsored and that he has a definite interest in, and which embraces a very narrow part of the operations of this government. If we are going to expand this idea and place a Member of the General Assembly on every board and commission in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I say to you, Mr. Speaker, we are changing the whole philosophy of government. When this Legislature adjourns sine die, it should adjourn, and those commissions and those boards to which we have delegated the power to act for us should have that right without any interference. I won't use the language of the telegram which the gentleman from Allegheny has read because I think it is too strong. I would rather put it mildly by saying it is an unwarranted and useless and needless piece of legislation.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I have no particular interest in this particular bill. However, I do feel that it is only fair to straighten out a few matters.

I am also a Member of the Aeronautics Commission in Pennsylvania. I had no interest at the time that I was made a member, but I would like to assure the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, and the other gentlemen of the House, and I say this in all sincerity, I daresay in the state of Pennsylvania you will find that every member from the Executive Director down has said that this bill we are talking about now, has worked out and is one hundred per cent cooperative and workable with the commission, and the commission, I do not think would have it otherwise, if a member did not serve from the legislature. I think they welcome us. We do not take up waste space. I know that they really want us and I feel that the commission has done a better job, and I know that every member of that commission will acknowledge that themselves.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I feel that House Bill 750 is very good, and I disagree with my friend from Allegheny, Mr. Brown that it is a step in the wrong direction. I believe, if anything, if they would put in this bill the Liquor Control Board, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and a few other Departments that we would get a lot better government for all the people.

As far as getting knowledge is concerned, I do not believe that is all that we are getting by sitting on these boards. During the last hectic days of the General Assembly bills come flying into the House from all these Departments and every place, as long as we have Members on both sides who know what is going on in those various Departments, they are able to vote more intelligently. So, I say that rather than being a step in the wrong direction and a wrong philosophy, I think it is a step in the right direction.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I had not expected that such a basic and fundamental issue would be raised at this time. I, however, welcome the raising of it.

We have witnessed during recent years in the nation and in the states a gradual accretion of power in the hands of the chief executive; gradual accretion of power in the hands of the state departments, a gradual accretion of power in the hands of boards, commissions and what have you. We have reached the point where boards and commissions are having entrusted to them certain functions by this Legislature and then proceed after we have left the Hall of this House to in fact set themselves up as legislators and legislate and promulgate rules that have the force of law. Then, Mr. Speaker, we come here and find that these boards, these commissions, these departments that have had two years to think about what they were trying to do or what they wanted to do come to you and deluge this chamber with bills in the interest of an entrenched bureaucracy.

So, I say, Mr. Speaker, by means of the approach in this bill, it is simply a beginning of a process to recover for and on behalf of the legislative branch of our government that power which the legislative branch has permitted to slip out of its hands. So serious has the situation become, as you well know, that after protracted discussion in the State Government Commission there has appeared in the session a bill which would absolutely give the power to legislative groups to sit in with these boards and commissions to see what they are doing and call a check on them, if they are abusing the power of the Legislature as entrusted in their hands.

Mr. Speaker, one of the reasons that government is so expensive, that payrolls are so expensive, that there is so much waste, is because there is no possibility for this House to keep its eye on what is going on. I say to you that if the Members of this House realized that there are seven hundred empty beds for tubercular patients in this state, and that patients that should be in state institutions are in general hospitals, a burden on Philadelphia, a burden on Pittsburgh—that if the Members of this House actually knew what the health situation was and the inadequate way in which our department, highly publicized, with their highly paid press agents, have been actually operating, that we would be in a better position to legislate for them, to legislate for us and to legislate for the people.

So, Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry to disagree with the philosophy of the gentleman from Allegheny, but I am in disagreement, and I am strongly in favor of the approach that this bill presents because it is a means of regaining the legislative power which we have permitted to slip from our hands.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I just want first to say one thing to set the record clear, that the Constitution of Pennsylvania endows this General Assembly with one proposition insofar as making laws are concerned. These boards exercise a quasi-judicial, a quasi-executive function. We delegate that function to them. Our powers extend only to the legislative session in which we are engaged and to which we were elected. Therefore, it seems to me, if we want to extend those powers we ought to do it by extending the constitutional provision and not trying to go in the back door.

I am well aware of the gentleman's reference to the bill in the Senate, but I want to say on the floor of the House that I have nothing to worry about in regard to that bill, because I am certain the courts will find it to be an unconstitutional piece of legislation. Unfortunately for this particular piece of legislation, I feel that it will not get into the courts, because we are sitting there and just taking up space.

I say to you, Mr. Speaker, before going in this direction, we ought to study the matter carefully to see that we are not turning the clock backwards.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to disagree regretfully with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

I have for the past four years sat on the Appropriations Committee and a sub-committee which has met between sessions in an effort to find out for the membership of this House just what is going on in the various Departments, so that during the legislative session we can better understand the budgetary requests of those Departments. I have heard, as has he, former Members, like the late member from Delaware County, Mr. Turner, urge that the Legislature be given greater opportunity to participate in government, not from the standpoint of voting on these boards and commissions, but so that this Legislature could better understand for itself and find its own facts to help solve the problems which are presented to it at its biennial sessions.

Mr. Speaker, in my opinion this bill is worthy of our support. In my opinion this bill makes it easier for us as we come back every two years to understand intelligently the problems of government. I think the more we understand the more we comprehend, the more we participate in government in a capacity such as suggested by this bill, the better we will be in a position to administer the affairs of government. After all, it takes a lot of cheek for a group of men elected such as we are, to come here for a brief few months during the biennium and hope to administer for the remaining months of that biennium, a program embracing one billion dollars. The directors of one of the greatest corporations of our nation meets monthly to decide questions of importance to them, which do not approximate the size of the problems which we face here, and it is in hope that by our sitting on these boards and hearing the problems that we can bring back to the membership as a whole, facts and information which will make them in the future more informed and better informed, in the hope that better legislation will develop and that the people of Pennsylvania will profit.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I certainly did not anticipate that this bill would cause the discussion that it has, but I am delighted that it has done so. I think we are beginning to see the implications, we are beginning to see just what the possibilities of this piece of legislation really are. I think it is only fair to point out to this House since it has been inferred that I have a personal interest in the Aeronautics Commission, that that is very far from the truth, except as it relates to my legislative duties. I do not fly personally; I like it as an interest while I am here in Harrisburg. I would like to see aeronautics of this state developed to the place where Pennsylvania is second to none, and that is exactly where we are today.

In spite of the great development of the airways of Pennsylvania, I want to call to the attention of the Members, Mr. Speaker, that it is the only board or commission in the state of Pennsylvania that has appeared before the Appropriations Committee of this House and is admitting that their operating expenses for the next biennium are going to be lower than for the present biennium. Show me another board that is coming in and asking for less money. Show me another board whose operating expenses for personnel, office materials, and supplies, are decreasing.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I do not want to appear as taking cerdit for this decrease, not at all. That commission is composed of a high type of men, but nevertheless the Members of the Legislature sitting there know exactly what the personnel problem is, they know where the money is being spent. If you call that a deterrent influence, if you call that an overlording influence, then let it be that. If that will reduce the cost of operation of the state of Pennsylvania and use the money then in turn to give the children of Pennsylvania better schools; to use that extra money to pay the school teachers of the Commonwealth a raise, then let it be overlordship; let it be just what it is.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise to oppose this measure for I think it has merit, but I rise for information. Does this bill carry an appropriation for remuneration to the legislative appointees for their traveling and necessary expenses?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, it does to the extent that all Members of the boards and commissions are reimbursed for their traveling expenses to and from meetings. There is no salary at all to any of the Members of this board or commission. They serve without pay. They give of their time and service and their experience to the Commonwealth.

Mr. NAGEL. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1031 is somewhat different from the usual run of legislation. You will notice on bills as a rule when you amend some act of the Legislature, in the beginning you so state, but in House Bill 1031 you practically write a new bill, giving all kinds of power to the Department of Agriculture. Then we find at the end of the bill that we repeal certain acts that have already been on the statute books for the benefit of the interested parties.

In this day and age when we travel so fast in the Legislature, I think that we should take time out to give consideration to this type of bill. The policy on the other side of this House to my mind has always been opposed to rules and regulations. They think that business should be free, but we find in legislation like this that we do just the opposite; they want regulation. Whether it is the Department that is asking for this legislation or whether it is the ice cream companies who are interested, I don't know. I find that the fines in here are somewhat steep. I am always opposed to the fact that we send out someone from some state department into our small businesses throughout the state of Pennsylvania to police something that should be policed by the contract of those people who place refrigeration in the stores. The contract itself should do the policing and not the state department. Therefore, I do not think we should vote for this type of legislation.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words to the Members of the House by way of explanation of House Bill 1031.

House Bill 1031 is really nothing more than a reenactment of the present law which is the Act of 1937 covering the manufacture of ice cream and ice cream products. The bill does change a few items; it brings the law with respect to the manufacture of ice cream and ice cream products up to date; it takes care of situations in the manufacturing processes which have developed and become common in the industry since the Act of 1937 was passed.

The Act of 1937 was amended, and it was thought that it would be more advisable to have the industry in the manufacture of ice cream controlled by one bill, to have all the regulations in one bill, rather than doing it by isolated amendments. The changes are minor and in some cases they set a better standard by which the public, the consuming public is protected, and in at least one case the law is liberalized so that the storekeeper can take advantage of a particular cabinet which he has in his store now, so that he can keep frozen foods, packaged frozen foods, in the same cabinet with packaged ice cream, which under the present law he is unable to do.

I do want to say that the bill is not the bill of the ice cream manufacturing industry in its entirety. The provisions of the bill have been considered and studied by the ice cream industry, both the large manufacturers and small manufacturers. It has been considered and studied by the Department of Agriculture of Pennsylvania and has the approval of the Department of Agriculture. The Department of Dairy Husbandry of Pennsylvania State College has considered the provisions of this bill, and the changes have met with the approval of that department, and they do approve the provisions of this bill.

So far as making any regulations are concerned in any kind of business, certainly the ice cream business is one which this state should regulate in order to protect the consuming public, because ice cream happens to be a product which is readily susceptible to adulteration and contamination if it is not controlled and its distribution and manufacture is not regulated. Certainly no other department can do it better than the Department of Agriculture has been doing it ever since the inception of this law, and they will continue to do so under the present bill.

So far as the question of repeal is concerned, it does not repeal any act except the Act of 1937, which it would naturally do by action of law if nothing else, because it simply reenacts the provisions of that Act. I would say it is good legislation and there is no intent in it to defraud anyone or to protect the ice cream industry. It is specificaly designed to protect the people of Pennsylvania who consume the ice cream that is made in this state, and I ask Members of this House to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. MUSTO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MUSTO. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Crawford say that this bill which he has introduced gives any protection to the small storekeeper, the country store, that gives the privilege to the ice cream people to put their ice cream freezer in their stores? What protection has the proprietor of this store got if a package is misplaced by a clerk in this store?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I don't quite understand the gentleman's question,—what kind of a package is being misplaced, where is it being misplaced. I do not understand the question.

Mr. MUSTO. Mr. Speaker, my question is if there is anything in that freezer except what the ice cream concern calls for, then that is a violation of the law according to this bill, if found in that freezer?

Mr. KENT. That is true, Mr. Speaker. That has been the law, I believe, since 1937.

Mr. MUSTO. Then the genteman says, does he not, that the law still does exist that if there is anything in this ice cream freezer outside of what the ice cream concern wants in there, then it is a violation of the law at the present time?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, with this exception, this bill provides that the storekeeper can keep packaged frozen foods in his cabinet in a separate compartment, but in the same cabinet with the packaged ice cream.

Mr. Speaker, to answer the gentleman's question further, the owner of the cabinet does not have complete control as to what goes into it. The law now provides that nothing but ice cream be kept in the cabinet in which ice cream is being kept. So, this act really liberalizes that phase of it and removes that restriction in that one case.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Crawford have any figures to show how many arrests were made under the original act by the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. KENT. Does the gentleman mean under the Act of 1937, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LOVETT. Under the original act.

Mr. KENT. For what, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, for violation of the health laws in regard to purification of ice cream or whatever it may be.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I have no such figures.

Mr. LOVETT. I want to thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has pretty well summarized what the bill does. He does not have any information in regard to whether or not there was a violation under the original act. He tells us that now we liberalize and we allow certain things to go into the containers, but we also liberalize it to the extent where the Department of Agriculture can now make rules and regulations and possibly cause a lot of trouble throughout the state of Pennsylvania. So therefore, I still maintain that it is unnecessary legislation.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I also would like to make further clarification that the fines which are provided under this bill in case of violation of the act are the same; they have not been increased in any instance as provided for in the Act of 1937.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I notice in this particular bill it provides for injunction proceedings for any violations, is that corerct?

Mr. KENT. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, does the present act or does it not provide for this procedure?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, it does; it is exactly the same.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, not every Member of this House has a personal biographer; especially not every Member has a personal biographer who says how he became a Member of the House.

I have often wondered why, and I have often wondered how a lot of legislators did actually become Members of the House. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Olsen is much more fortunate. Little Patricia Dunn at her school recently told the story of how Mr. Olsen got into the state Legislature. I think it is a pretty good way to get into the Legislature, as Patricia tells it. With the permission of the House I will read what Patricia said. She said:

"Mr. Olsen is a man that lives in my community. He owns a grocery store at the corner of Broadway and Coast. Today I am going to tell you about him. Mr. Olsen was born in Norway and there he grew up. When at the age of 13 he entered America where he began to work. Gradually he worked his way up. He began to meet people and soon he found himself interested in politics of our country. Finally Mr. Olsen moved to our community where all over again he had to meet the people of this little town. Here he bought himself a little grocery store. People began to grow fond of him. They found out that he had a serious side and also a funny side to him.

"In 1940 Mr. Olsen ran for State Legislature and won. This made him very happy. Mr. Olsen then began to serve his state in Harrisburg to the best of his ability. He tried to pass the laws that he thought would suit his country. Here he served his two years in helping make our country's laws. After his two years were finished Mr. Olsen then ran again but was defeated so for the next four years he worked hard in his little store. But Mr. Olsen was determined that he was going to get back into State Legislature. So when this election came up Mr. Olsen was there fighting just as usual and he got on the ballot. Then his work did begin. He had to attend clubs, banquets, etc. Now Mr. Olsen is working again to the best of his ability to help try to keep our country straight. God bless him and keep and guide him."

I think we all, all of us, in humility can say the same thing on his behalf, on all our behalf. On behalf of each one of us, God bless us, every one, including Mr. Olsen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Olsen.

Mr. OLSEN. I don't know what to say; there has been too much said already, I am afraid. Mr. Reynolds asks me to say a few words in Norwegian, but he does not understand Norwegian and would not understand me.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the gentleman from Allegheny for the admiration of this little girl.

Mr. OLSEN. I thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. BRICE asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Township to meet during the session of the House.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to advise the lady from Lacakawanna, Mrs. Munley, that if she desires information as to the whereabouts of her registration plates the Chief Clerk has information that will be of interest to her.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 526 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. SCHMIDT offered a resolution which was read and considered as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1949.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That Senate Bill No. 526, Printer's No. 147, entitled "An act to amend subsection (c) of section one of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 160), entitled 'An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; defining in part the powers and duties of such commission; abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; terminating the terms of the members thereof; and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, the records, employes, property and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings, legal or otherwise instituted before, by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing that all certificates of public convenience, contracts, orders and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed, changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,' increasing the salaries of the chairman and other commissioners" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House, this resolution is an endeavor on my part to have this House recall from the Governor, Senate Bill 526 which this House yesterday passed.

For the information of the House it was a bill that increased the salaries of the members of the Public Utility Commission from the present salary of ten thousand dollars to the newly enacted salary of fourteen thousand dollars, and increasing the compensation of the Chairman of the Public Utility Commission to fifteen thousand dollars. This bill and its companion bill numbered 527 are now presumably in the possession of the Governor.

I feel now as I felt yesterday, and I have been fortified in my feeling that the Members of this House feel that the amount granted, the increase, was out of line and not in line with the salaries being paid to the members of the Cabinet of the Governor, who now receive twelve thousand dollars a year, to members of the Liquor Control Board who receive but ten thousand dollars a year, and various other board members who receive not in excess of ten thousand dollars a year.

Mr. Speaker, there are a lot of people, including myself who feel that there should have been some increase in salary but not to the extent of forty per cent. I have therefor filed this resolution asking the recall of these bills so that they may be amended more in line with a percentage of increase that will be commensurate with the advance in the cost of living.

This is not a party issue. I am talking to you as a representative of both the Republicans and the Democrats in my district. You sit here voting as representatives of both parties, and let me tell you that there are thinking people in both of the major parties, and when this information gets back to them that we as a body saw fit to increase to a higher bracket salary to the extent of forty per cent, I do not think that they are going to like it. So, I appeal to you, each and every one of you, to reconsider the action which you took yesterday and join me in asking for the recall of these two bills, Senate Bills 526 and 527, and along that line I ask for a roll call.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I had not anticipated that to support the gentleman's motion there would be a protractive debate, due to the fact that these amendments were considered late yesterday afternoon, and it is not too early at the present time.

For the reasons which I stated yesterday I hope that those reasons merit the support of the membership, and accordingly I request that they vote this motion down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. Schmidt and Reynolds and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that at the present time the majority leadership is contemplating a five day legislative week. This would involve a matter of policy. I understand that before the five day week becomes established as a policy opportunity will be given for the House to decide one way or the other as to whether they desire to launch themselves upon a five day week. Is that correct, Mr. Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, may I reply to the gentleman and say that I have been authorized by the Republican caucus of the House to request a five day week beginning Monday; that, of course, before the question is decided as a House policy we will be willing to have the matter considered here on the floor of this House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Majority Leader, and I will add for the information of the Majority Leader that we believe the time has come for a definite statement as to the legislation that the majority has in mind.

What is the majority's policy with reference to legislation for Philadelphia, for Philadelphia City or Philadelphia schools?

What is the majority party's policy, what are they going to bring forth with reference to Allegheny County?

What is the majority party's policy with reference to our hard-pressed medical institutions, our medical colleges, the desperate need for appropriations over and above the appropriations scheduled in the Governor's budget?

What is the financial status of our situation? Is there any legislative discretion? Is it possible for this House to find the money with which to finance the medical colleges of Pittsburgh that need the money if they are to train nurses, if they are to train attendants in psychiatric work, if they are to train doctors?

Is it possible for this House to find the money to give to the Philadelphia medical schools; money that they must have if they are to modernize their curriculum, if they are to train doctors, train nurses and train psychiatrists?

What is the policy, and are we going to have a policy with reference to the schools; legislation with reference to education, and a number of things which would enable the House to determine the necessity for a five day week?

We want to have these matters outlined in order that the communities which shall be affected by action or inaction may be on notice either that their requests have been definitely sidetracked, that we are proceeding to an adjournment without meeting those requests or that we propose here in this House to enact a legislative program that will meet their requests, and when that is done, we can determine the necessity for a five day week, and we can determine how long we shall remain in this Hall.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I can add to the list enumerated by the Minority Leader other important subjects in addition to those he has named, which have long been considered and are being considered by the Committees of this House and of the Senate. They are being given very serious thought and there is being evolved a final, and I hope adequate answer to all these questions. I do not think that the main issue necessarily depends on whether we have a five day week or a four day week. We will debate that question on Monday.

However, the gentleman may rest assured that the Committees are hard at work in an effort to get an early solution to what has been presented by this administration, and so far as the work which it has done so far is concerned, I think the gentleman will agree that a great part of the administration program has progressed through this House long since.

Other matters remain to be considered by the Senate but I think that with the proper application the entire administration program, which we believe to be in the best interests of all the people of the state, will be enacted by the time of final adjournment, and we trust that final adjournment will be not too far away.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. STUART and FLEMING offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1949.

Charles Preston Howe, founder and publisher of the Tarentum Valley Daily News has passed away.

One of the most widely known and respected newspaper publishers in Pennsylvania, Mr. Howe founded The Valley Daily News forty-five years ago, and during these years has always taken a leading part in every form of community betterment and civic activity.

Born February 27, 1883, Mr. Howe was a son of the late William Preston and Jane Kennedy Howe, and great grandson of Daniel Howe, a Revolutionary War soldier, Indian scout, and pioneer settler in Western Pennsylvania.

Mr. Howe entered Allegheny College, Meadville, with the intention of taking up law. While in school he worked on a Meadville newspaper. Becoming interested in the profession of journalism, he reached the conclusion there was need in the Tarentum community for a daily newspaper. At the close of his Junior year he left college to establish The News. The first edition was published on June 27, 1904.

Mr. Howe has always been extremely active in church life and religious activities. He served for many years as a member of the official board of the Methodist church, and for more than thirty years was teacher of the Pentagon Men's Class.

He held many places of responsibility in the Pittsburgh Methodist Conference. At the time of his death he was chairman of the Finance Commission. He has been a delegate to two General Conferences one in 1924, and the other in 1940, which was the uniting conference of The Methodist Church.

He early associated himself with Allegheny Valley Y. M. C. A. serving on its board of directors for nearly forty years.

He was one of the organizers of the Tarentum Kiwanis Club and served as its president in 1931. He was one of the original members of Eureka Hose Company.

Mr. Howe has been for years a member of the board of the Pittsburgh and Tarentum Camp Meeting Association and maintained a cottage there. He was proud of the fact that he attended sixty-five of its ninety-nine sessions, being taken to the grounds by his parents when he was an infant.

By appointment of Governor James H. Duff, and previously by former Governor Edward Martin, Mr. Howe has been a member of the board of trustees of Woodville State Hospital, since its reorganization. He deeply enjoyed this activity.

Mr. Howe has been for years former president of Allegheny Valley Business Association, Allegheny County Planning Commission and Allegheny Regional Conference.

He assisted in the organization of Tarentum Salvation Army Corps more than a quarter of a century ago and served on its advisory board throughout the years.

He was one of the organizers of Allegheny Valley Hospital and served as its first treasurer.

Of all the achievements of The News, Mr. Howe was proudest of the part it played in the establishment of the Tarentum municipal water plant. It was built in 1914 after long years of striving by the newspaper to obtain a better and purer supply of water for the community.

Since early manhood he had been a member of Pollock Lodge No. 502 F and A. M., Gorgas Lodge of Perfection and Syria Shrine. He was also a member of Phi Delta Theta national social fraternity.

He was married on August 15, 1917 to the former Mildred Powell of Cabot, then a teacher in the Tarentum schools. They had four children. A son, David, died in 1934 at the age of twelve. Surviving are three daughters: Miss Mary Jane Howe, who is assistant program director at College Settlement, Philadelphia; Mrs. Elizabeth Simon of 343 East Eleventh Avenue, and Mrs. Sally Lineweaver of Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Because Mr. Howe was a man who loved and served his community and was in turn beloved to it, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend our deepest sympathy to his family, his community and his friends, and though we grieve for them in their great loss we rejoice in the gain of that community to which we all aspire, and we feel sure that it is a richer place because he is there, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his family.

SENATE

THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1949

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, M., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. JOHN F. KNITTLE, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Who hast given us a land wherein we are free to read and hear Thy word, to confess Thy name, and to labor together for the extension of Thy Kingdom, grant, we beseech Thee, that the liberty given unto us may be continued in our posterity, and that the power of the Gospel may abound to the blessing of all the nations of the earth, and to Thine eternal glory, in the Name of our Blessed Father.

We praise and thank Thee for all those who have gone before us and for what they have bequeathed to us, and for what we have inherited. Grant that we may pass on to those who follow us as rich a heritage as we have received.

We thank Thee for good and sincere men, chosen by their fellowmen to guide the destinies of our Nation and State, and who did not forget their obligation to Thee as their Ruler nor their dependence on Thee as the source of their wisdom and their aid in doing the right.

And now, Most Gracious Father, we pray that it may please Thee to send forth Thy Holy Spirit in the fullness of His gifts to bless these Thy servants with wisdom to perceive the ways of Thy Holy Will, and to guide them unfailingly in the path of Thy will, so that when the Session shall come to its close, and looking back over the work they have accomplished, may all honor and praise be due Thy Name, in the Name of the Triune God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Amen.

ERRATUM

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, at this time, for the purpose of the record, I would like to advise the Senate that yesterday the Senate passed Senate Bill No. 578, bearing Printer's No. 304. Through an error in the printing, the printer also sent up the same identical bill, Senate Bill No. 578, bearing Printer's No. 314. They are absolutely identical bills with the exception of the fact that the printer put out an extra edition with a second printer's number on it. Printer's No. 304, which passed the Senate yesterday, is the correct printer's number, and should be shown in the Journal so that there is no confusion in the House

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker: The membership is entitled to be informed as to the situation with regard to the five day week approved by Caucus action of the majority party during yesterday's Session. I would like to commend the membership for its complete willingness to work three and four day weeks up to the present time. It is of no legislative advantage however to have one house meet five days a week and the other a lesser number. Therefore I regret that the drive for final adjournment must once more await future agreement between the two bodies, and that next week's sssion will be of four days duration.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we accept on the part of the minority the Majority Leader's apology, with thanks.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, we will be prepared next Monday as at all times during this session, past and future, to meet any objections of the minority, but we were persuaded by reasons other than those for adopting this policy for next week.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUNNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will the gentleman assure me that he has at the present time a constitutional majority?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not hesitate to assure the gentleman, and if he feels inclined to test that fact he has my permission to do so.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, let him call a controversial bill and we will see.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 254, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (a) of section one thousand eight hundred three and clause (e) of section one thousand eight hundred six of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creaeting reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brandon, will state it.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 254, Printer's No. 519, and all bills up to and including pages 3—pages 1, 2, and 3, are not on my desk, and if they are called up for first reading today it will be impossible for amendments to be prepared. The Members of this House would want to know what the bills do contain. So, is it possible to have them passed over on first reading—the bills on pages 1, 2 and 3?

The SPEAKER. The Chair inquires whether the bills on first reading on pages 1, 2 and 3 are on file.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, those bills are in pink but I do not think they are in white. I have copies of the bills in pink.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Cambria.

The Chair desires also to inform the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brandon, that all bills on first reading have been in print for quite some time.

Mr. BRANDON. I understand, Mr. Speaker, but I don't understand that these bills reported from Committee have all been reported unamended. I cannot find what I desire in regard to the bills at the present time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct in that the bills on first reading on the calendar were reported from Committee as amended. If it is essential and the gentleman so requests, the Chair will pass over the bills on first reading until they are put on the Members' desks.

The Chair desires to inquire, however, if in the opinion of the gentleman it is essential to do so.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, I cannot say whether or not it is essential or not essential. The only thing I say is, I should be able to find out what we are voting on or what we are approving here and be in a position, if necessary, to present amendments. If the Chair desires and if the Majority Leader desires, I am not going to insist upon passing over these bills but I do think that the membership of this House is entitled to have these bills on their desks for first reading, because otherwise we cannot prepare amendments for second reading.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the gentleman presents a very good point.

The Chair desires to direct the attention of the gentleman to the fact, however, that on first reading if there are any bills in which the gentleman is interested, full cooperation will be extended him.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, on that ruling I do not press my request.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would say for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny that there has been from the beginning of this session an understanding with the Leader of the majority that any bills in which any Member was interested to the extent of desiring to present amendments would at his request be held over. I think that we have arranged a situation to suit the convenience of the Members, and any Member who wants to amend a bill on first reading or on second reading and hasn't had the time to do so, if he will notify me the bill will be held over. If he insists on keeping his intention a secret, I have no way of protecting his interests as far as the majority Leader is concerned, but if they will let me know I can say to them and the Majority Leader will say to them, that they will be given every opportunity to study the bill and present their amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman. The Chair is also of the same understanding.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, may I confirm the statement of the Minority Leader in its entirety.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the Majority Leader.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if we pass bills in this House that are not on the desks of the Members, after we adjourn and they are passed, is there a question as to the constitutionality in regard to the bills that we do not have on our desks?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read the constitutional provision for the information of the gentleman from Westmoreland. The Chair will read Article III, Section 4 of the Constitution and Rule 42 of the House which covers the passage of bills:

"Every bill and every joint resolution shall be read at length on three different days. All amendments made thereto shall be printed for the use of the Members before the final vote is taken thereon and no bill shall become a law and no such resolution be adopted unless, on its final passage, the vote be taken by yeas and nays. The names of the persons voting for and against the same shall be entered on the Journal, and a majority of the Members elected be recorded thereon as voting in its favor, as required by the Constitution."

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I further inquire if we are not living up to the Constitution in reading bills at length on three different days, whether or not by the short-cut, if the bills are on the desks at least, then I would say we were within our rights and the Constitution, but if the bills are not on the desks and the Member has not had the opportunity to find out whether the bills have been amended in committee, I question very much the constitutionality of passing such legislation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman that there is no constitutional provision requiring that the bills be filed on the Members' desks. The Chair directs the attention of the gentleman to the constitutional provision which only requires the printing of the bills.

May I say in reply to the Minority Leader that yesterday afternoon I took this problem up with my own Minority Leader and my own Minority Leader at that time did not inform me of such an agreement as this. I did not wish to have my comments or my parliamentary inquiry to be taken as any criticism of either the Chair or the Majority Leader. RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. TOMPKINS, JOHNSON and JENNINGS.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 48.

In the House of Representatives, March 31, 1949.

Whereas, The consolidation or merger of school districts in Pennsylvania is a vital question which is now uppermost in the minds of the people of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The General Assembly of Pennsylvania in 1947 passed an act approved June 21, 1947, (P. L. 867), (Act No. 361), which required the County Boards of School Directors on or before July 1, 1948, to file proposed plans forming merged or union school districts in the several counties of Pennsylvania, the plans to be approved by the State Council on Education at a time, when in their discretion they might choose to do so; and

Whereas, This act created a great deal of confusion, misunderstanding and consternation among the people of the Commonwealth and focused attention upon the fact that Pennsylvania has no plan or set of rules and regulations that the various school boards or the people might study in order to determine the wisdom or advisability of forming merged or union school districts; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to investigate and study the problem of the joinder, merger or consolidation of school districts in Pennsylvania and to determine the following:

(1) What the ideal consolidated or merged school districts should be;
(2) the minimum number of pupils that such a district should have;
(3) the type of over-all program such district should offer;
(4) the number of teachers such a district should require per pupil;
(5) the type of school plant and the minimum and maximum expenditure;
(6) the manner of payment for such school plant and equipment and the participation in the cost by the local districts and the Commonwealth;
(7) equalization of tax assessments within the merged or consolidated district, and
(8) such other facts pertinent hereto including transportation so as to properly inform the people and the school boards on this very vital problem, and be it further

Resolved, That the said Commission shall report its findings and conclusions to the next regular Session of the General Assembly together with such proposed legislation as it may devise to carry out its recommendations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hear none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FARRELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, tax legislation to provide the revenue for the urgent needs of Philadelphia's Board of Public Education is pending in both the House and the Senate. Four bills are now before the House, by which the existing Mercantile and Personal Property taxes for school purposes would be continued, and new per capita and wage taxes imposed. The bill in the Senate, which I introduced, is to increase the present school real estate levy.

Mr. President, all of these measures were introduced at the request of the Board of Education, with the view that the General Assembly might select from them such as it deems most equitable to all of Philadelphia's citizens and taxpayers, to provide the additional revenue required for the adequate maintenance of the school system.

There is considerable opposition to each of the suggested new tax bills, namely, the per capita tax, the wage tax and the increased real estate tax. Everyone agrees that new taxes to supplement the Board's revenue from the present real estate taxes, must be provided for—even if we continue the temporary mercantile and school personal property taxes, enacted at the last session. The Board must have $10,000,000 annually more than it obtains from the real estate taxes. The mercantile and personal property taxes, I am told, realize approximately $5,000,000 a year. So that, even with those two taxes continued, the Board would still be $5,000,000 a year short. The problem is very acute, and something must be done very soon.

There is another means by which the needed additional revenue can be obtained. It proposes, for the consideration of the Senate, the increasing and broadening of the scope of the mercantile tax and the including, as taxable personal property, certain types of personal property now exempt from taxation.

Mr. President, I am about to sponsor such measures, and also bills similar to those introduced in the House. There will be, accordingly, then before the Senate Committee all of the legislation in both Houses on this subject for its consideration and study.

From these bills, those which are deemed in the best interest of Philadelphia's citizens and taxpayers, and which will provide the Board with the money it requires, may then be passed.

Mr. President, I rise in place and present to the Chair the following bills.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FARRELL, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 842, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue for school districts of the first class by imposing a temporary business tax on the gross receipts of certain persons engaging in certain businesses therein; providing for its levy and collection; conferring and imposing powers and duties on the Board of Public Education receiver of school taxes, and school treasurer in such districts; and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, the function of a political party is to express the will of the people.

In attempting to discover what public opinion in Philadelphia favored, the Republican Party looked to the program advocated by the five civic organizations in Philadelphia, The Chamber of Commerce, The Pennsylvania Economy League, the Committee of Seventy, The Citizens' Council on City Planning, and the Bureau of Municipal Research. In their pamphlet "How to Modernize Philadelphia's Government," a copy of which can be procured from any of the group, they advocated City-County consolidation, Home rule, Debt Stabilization, and a merger of the Registration Commission and the County Board of Elections.

In attempting to carry out this program, the Debt Stabilization bills have been introduced in the House and bills for the other three purposes were introduced in the Senate.

Due to opposition within the civic organizations and the newspapers, it became apparent that the merger of the Registration Commission with the County Board of Elections did not have the support of public opinion, and for that reason the Republican organization decided to give no further support to such a bill.

With respect to City-County merger, Senate Bill No. 654 has the approval of all five civic organizations plus that of the Greater Philadelphia Movement. For some weeks past there has been no difference of opinion as far as policy is concerned between the thinking of the Republican organization and that of the civic organizations. There has merely been a disagrement in wording. It was the opinion of some persons that it was sufficient to remove the constitutional shackles and permit the legislature to act in such manner as it would choose. Others thought that a bill saying that the legislature shall or must merge the governments was better. It must be clear to everyone in this chamber that in the final analysis the legislature will have to work out the solution, and that whether it may act or whether it shall or must enact legislation would seem to be immaterial. However, through a series of conferences we have finally arrived at a bill which seems to have universal support, and that is Senate Bill No. 654.

Senate Bill No. 5 is the Home Rule Bill, and while there is a divergence of opinion of the exact details of this bill, I feel that it has the substantial support of all the civic organizations. The Bill provides for the appointment of a Charter Commission of 15, no more than 10 of whom can be from the majority party. Nine of the Charter Commission are to be appointed by the President of City Council and six by the Mayor. Of course, this bill could have provided that the Charter Commission should be elected by the people, but if it had, charter revision in Philadelphia would have been delayed for at least a year. The bill as now drafted goes into effect immediately and a charter could be written in time for submission at this November's election.

In so far as the virtues of election vs. appointment is concerned, it seems to me that we in Philadelphia will get a better commission by way of appointment than election. Many civic minded citizens in Philadelphia and in particular, Dr. Chute, the Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Economy League, who is an expert on the civic organizations on this problem, agree with this point of view. My own feeling is that the eyes of the people will be on the Mayor and President of City Council and they will appoint outstanding citizens for this job.

Furthermore, I might note in passing that we all know that if the commission were elected rather than appointed, the two major political parties would control the designation of candidates and some outstanding citizens, who might not wish to get into the political arena of an election, might refuse to have their names submitted.

I would like to further point out that those who object to the appointive power in this matter are not very consistent, because they at the same time desire a City Charter, under which the Mayor will have power to appoint all the City Officials, including those exercising County functions.

With respect to the method of amending the Charter, the Bill as originally drafted provided for amendments to be submitted to the people upon the vote of two-thirds of City Council. Since the City Charter is the fundamental law of the City, just as the state Constitution is the fundamental law of a state and the Federal Constitution the fundamental law of the United States, we sought guidance for the amending process in those great documents. Article V of the Federal Constitution provides that amendments may be submitted to the people in state conventions upon the vote of two-thirds of the members of both houses of Congress. The Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that amendments may be submitted to the people upon a majority vote of both houses of the State Legislature passed in two consecutive sessions. The method of amending the City Charter in the original bill was consistent with these constitutional requirements.

However, some members of the civic organizations desired a more lenient method of amendment and requested that they be submitted to the people upon petition of 20,000 electors. This appears to be satisfactory provided the elected representatives of the people screen any such suggestion, so that the people will not be asked to vote on impractical or absurd schemes.

As everyone knows, with a few hundred dollars it would be easy to get 20,000 persons to sign a petition for almost anything. Petitions might be submitted to limit the height of buildings, to prohibit or require the use of union labor on construction in Philadelphia, to gerrymander councilmanic districts, to deny proper representation to minority groups, to prohibit council from enacting FEPC or other legislation in the interest of Minorities, especially on religious and racal issues, or anythng that a small group was particularly or fanatically interested in.

Furthermore, in no major city can amendments be initiated by so low a percentage of electors. New York requires 50,000, and most major cities require 10 to 15% of the electors to sign a petition, which in Philadelphia would amount to 100,000 to 150,000.

If the suggestion offered were taken, a few disgruntled persons could get up a petition to review the whole charter and throw out the good work done by the Charter Commission, perhaps on a single issue with which they disagree. It is not difficult to confuse the public on a complicated law. We see it done even here, where it is our duty to read and know the contents of the bills.

In the final analysis this is not a question of the Republican party or the Democratic party, because there is no guarantee that the Republican party will control Council indefinitely in future elections. We hope it will. This is a question of the fundamentals of good government, and we feel that this Bill provides just that.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 654 and Senate Bill No. 5 revolve around the centennial dream of Philadelphia's citizenry for better government.

Senate Bill No. 654 reminds me of the "Golden Ass" by Apulius, a Roman classic.

Mr. President, there were several metamorphoses during the Session, and this is supposed to be the final product. In the enactment of Senate Bill 654, we appear holding the horns of a dilemma. The bill provides the shell, and it will be up to the people in the future, the city officials, to supply the contents.

Mr. President, I mentioned it once that Voltaire said he would rather have Mephisto legislate and Gabriel execute, than Gabriel legislate and Mephisto execute. This Senate Bill No. 654, as I say, provides the shell and the contents will have to be supplied later, and if Mephisto is going to supply the contents, it will be a complete flop.

However, Mr. President, under the circumstances, and in order to advance the arrival of a better day, we are constrained to vote for Senate Bill No. 654, hoping that the contents overall will be for the betterment of the citizenry of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, so far as Senate Bill No. 5 is concerned, which is supposed to give Philadelphia a new charter, in my humble opinion it militates against the fundamentals of American government. That redeeming phrase of the Constitution, "we the people," is missing from these provisions, because, in my opinion, an appointed charter commission means the bankruptcy of democracy. We have many outstanding citizens, we have many outstanding luminaries in Philadelphia, who could serve on a charter commission, but unfortunately some of them are not concerned with the principle behind the legislation. If I would be assured that all of them would think of the principle of better government and the improvement of Philadelphia, I would be for it, but I would rather see an elected commission, even if the quality and caliber of the people who served on that commission were not so outstanding.

Mr. President, I have examined a list of appointed charter commissions, and I find the preponderant rule is the rule of elected commissions. In Missouri they tried both systems, elected commissions and appointed commissions, and they came to the conclusion that the elected commissions worked out better. I could stand here on the floor of the Senate and bring many principles in support of my contention, but I respectfully maintain that if we do not elect the membership of the Commission that will have to draw the charter, we admit that the people are not able to govern themselves, and such admission is tantamount to the bankruptcy of democracy.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO: Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this is an accumulation of facts. Do not fear any filibuster. It isn't that. It's just that I didn't have enough time to pick out the clippings I want to refer to. The truckers, the railroads and the leaders kept me away and prevented me from going over this accumulation. These clippings are just from one admiiistration. I have clippings from all the administrations since I have been in Harrisburg.

I want to refer to just one. Mr. President, Joe Miller reports in 1937 in the Philadelphia Inquirer that the City-County consolidation bill presented by Senator Stiefel and Senator DiSilvestro is ready to be signed by the Governor. Maybe 10 years from now, in 1959, if Joe Miller is still around, he will still be writing the same kind of article.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, my point is just this. I am not opposed to the Kephart bill—the City-County consolidation bill— because, first of all, I know that he introduced it in the proper spirit, that of really wanting to give Philadelphia a City-County consolidation bill, but I am wondering whether the Senators who vote for this bill will do everything in their power to influence their communities back home to vote for consolidation when it comes up as a referendum before the people.

That is the only thing that bothers me about this bill, because in 1937, as reported in these clippings, we passed it and it was signed by the Governor, but when it came before the Legislature the second time, the people from upstate gave it a good licking.

Now, Mr. President, if the Members of the Senate really are in good faith and really mean to help the City of Philadelphia, I hope that in voting for the bill they will also have the honest intention of trying to influence the electorate with speeches and work, just as Bill Meade, the Philadelphia Republican leader, said at one of the meetings that he would put all his efforts into seeing that the referendum would be approved by the people.

Now, Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 5, was introduced by my good friend and former professor, Senator Lord, whom I know is also acting in good faith in presenting his bill. Mr. President, if you read the newspapers of last week, you will see that Mayor Samuel wants to put his son in the position of City Councilman from South Philadelphia—nepotism.

While all the other leaders in Philadelphia feel that is not right, I ought to be hoping that he gets the job, because that would weaken the Republican party in South Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I do not think that we are being given the proper utensils, the proper instruments, the power to get the proper man to do this job that we want done.

In the Earle administration, we had the audacity and the courage to name a man like Goodrich, who is now the Judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Eastern District in Philadelphia. Now, if anything like that would come out of Senator Lord's bill, I would be for it one million per cent. Can't you imagine what would happen if this power were put into the hands of a man who made a fine police officer, like Shooey Malone, who had to leave the service of the City of Philadelphia as Director of Public Safety?

In the Daily News of Wednesday, February 10, 1937, when the Democrats had control in Harrisburg, there appeared this title in that paper: "Shooey Malone Slated to Head State Police." That is how much we thought of that man. It wasn't because Shooey Malone was in the Republican Administration or in the Democratic Administration. We were concerned only with the benefit to the city of Philadelphia and the state of Pennsylvania by having him at the head of the State Police.

Remember, Mr. President, that Shooey Malone left the service in Philadelphia, and no one in Philadelphia knows the reason. Maybe he detected the putrid conditions and the smelly corners around City Hall. Maybe he was sick and tired of what was going on in Philadelphia.

Now, Mr. President, Barney Samuel is a nice fellow. He is an amiable individual and a good looking man when his picture appears in the newspapers. But, I submit that in all good conscious I cannot vote for a bill that gives him all of this power, because I know in my heart that he will not appoint the proper people.

Mr. President, I know that in the Committee of Local Government, under the very able Senator Stevenson, about eight years ago when Mayor Lamberton, now deceased, was present and asked for help for the policemen of Philadelphia, old Barney Samuel, in his same old political way, said: "Sure, we are going to help; you can trust us." Well, did the policemen of Philadelphia ever get that help? You know, Mr. President and members of the Senate, that they did not.

Mr. President, I feel Mayor Samuel lacks the ability, the foresight and the intelligence to name this Commission. I feel that he will give Philadelphia neither a proper Commission nor a square deal. Therefore, I must vote against this bill.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro.

The PESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia mentioned the commission that Judge Goodrich was on. W ill the gentleman state whether that was an appointed or elected commission?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, "En Passant", I am not prepared to go into detail at this time. However, I might say we took into consideration such outstanding men as Judge Goodrich.

Mr. KEPHART. Was he appointed to the commission?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. He may have been, I don't remember, but they were good men whom we appointed.

Mr, RESENFELD. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, before I begin to discuss the demerits of Senate Bill No. 5, I would like to take just a moment to acknowledge the excitement that was created here last week by my absence, and while I perhaps would not have agreed with the methods used in order to gain time so that I could appear here, I do want to thank my colleagues and finally the entire membership of the Senate for having the bill go over in order. It was not until the next day when I read it in the press that I knew about the excitement that was created, and I assure you that I am sorry if my absence did something to the serenity of the Senate Chamber.

Mr. President, it makes it rather difficult and embarrassing for me today to put my best foot forward because the newspaper reports that I read ended with short sentence: "The Bill will pass the Senate next Monday, and be sent to the House for concurrence." Now, with this staring me in the face, I wish that this were, instead of a meeting of the Senate, a Republican Caucus at which I would have the honor to attend. I am sure that I could have obtained a more receptive audience before we had reached the point where it had been told that this is something that must be done for the organization in Philadelphia, and I think I might have convinced the gentlemen on the right side of this House that what I was saying was not only in the interest of the citizens of the city of Philadelphia, but believe it or not in the interest of the Republican Party of that City.

Mr. President, I suppose, in order to really understand the nature of this entire problem, we should place ourselves in the position where we could view step by step what has brought us to this particular point. I am not going to take the time of the Senate to do that. I know that all of you are fairly familiar with the conditions as we find them in Philadelphia today and as they have been for a long time, but things are out in the open today, and I must confess that notwithstanding my partisanship, I was proud civically when the leader of the Republican organization, last year when all these exposures were being made, admitted that it was an awful thing, and decided that public trust would be taken away from the Republican Party in Philadelphia unless something was done. Now, with that as a background, I think we should begin to examine carefully what that something is that is attempted to be done here today.

My good friend, Senator Kephart, has talked to you in one breath about the civic organizations being in back of Senate Bill No. 654, but when he discussed Senate Bill No. 5, he forgot all about the civic organizations, because they are not in favor of Senate Bill No. 5 the way it reads today. I think, Mr. President, to prove to you gentlemen that we are not obstructionists or not obstreperous, we are supporting Senate Bill No. 654; we do not think it is perfect, but we think in the final analysis it will do some good for the city of Philadelphia, if, as, and when it ever passes. Now, will it ever pass? I do not know, genltemen. We have had one bad experience with city-county consolidation before. At any rate, city-county consolidation, home rule, debt stabilization, all were part of a program developed by the civic agencies, and agreed to apparently in principle by the Republican Party in Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I think it was the first or second day of this Session that bills were introduced in the Senate and House covering these points, and here we are on April 4, and what do we find? We find that city-county consolidation had to be revised four different times before it became acceptable. We know, too, that city-county consolidation has to be voted upon by the Legislature in 1951, and that it may become effective sometime in 1956. As to debt stabilization, we find a bill passed in 1947, agreed to by all the civic agencies, and the Republican organizations introduced it in the House in 1949. We find now that it has to be passed a second time, that a very, very serious effort is being made to scuttle it, and unless I miss my guess, it will be scuttled. In any event that, too, is something that could become effective only in the future.

I am not going to talk about the Registration Commission ripper. The Republican organization in Philadelphia wisely decided to drop it, and it has been dropped, but in considering the history of the course of this legislation through the Senate, I would like to say, without being unduly critical of any particular individual, that no decent hearing was given, particularly on the home rule bill. There was a public hearing, at which an effort was made by the Committee to hear the pros and cons with regard to all these bills. That hearing ended in a brawl; it ended in a brawl simply by reason of the fact that the Committee was asked that it consider and discuss a bill that was not even before it, and which it was announced that morning was going to be introduced in the Senate that day.

Mr. President, the reason I am discussing the background of these measures is to set forth at least my position to the Members of this Senate and to the citizens of the city of Philadelphia in connection with the seriousness of the organization which at this late date is asking for something that looks like it is in the interest of the citizenry of Philadelphia. Now, there is only one thing that can be done immediately for Philadelphia, and that is the obtaining of a new charter, whether it be by passage of a bill by this Legislature or by home rule.

Mr. President, we have to keep in mind that the operation of government is concerned not alone with the framework, which we change from time to time, but with the men who operate within that framework, and if the citizens of the city of Philadelphia had the opportunity today of changing the men who operate within the framework, I assure you, Mr. President and Members of this Senate, they would do the changing, and I think that is the crux of what is wrong with Senate Bill No. 5. We are proceeding on the basis that we have men operating the city of Philadelphia who have been operating it in the interest of the city of Philadelphia, and I am not singling anyone out for attack. It is the thing that happens when an organization stays in power for a very, very long time, and Philadelphia is no exception. It is happening there, too, and I would like to make it clear that I do not think it has anything to do with anybody being either a Republican or a Democrat. It has happened to Democratic organizations, too, and I am just as concerned as is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, when he says that it may be that the Democrats will take over City Council, which I am sure they will, but I am just as much fearful of a Democratic organization that would take over with those powers as I am of a Republican organization.

Mr. President, this is supposed to be a home rule bill, and we keep in mind that these same men who brought Philadelphia to the knees at which it finds itself today, are going to control the machinery of that home rule bill, then, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we should understand that it cannot be a decent home rule bill. It merely transfers from Senator Kephart and Company of this Senate the right to make the laws for the city of Philadelphia to Councilman Garman and his Co-Councilmen in the city of Philadelphia; that is all it does. You have the same leadership and the same group. You keep away from the citizens of the city of Philadelphia the right to pick the members of the new so-called Charter Commission, and if, as Senator Kephart said, it was important to save time, we could have saved time; we could have had a new charter passed by the Senate and the House of this Legislature, and have had it in operation now in the city of Philadelphia, instead of wasting the four months we have, trying to work out a City-County consolidation bill and a home rule bill, which is not a home rule bill. This bill refuses to give the people of the city of Philadelphia if Senator Kephart thinks 20,000 is too little, let us make it 40,000, let us make it 50,000—but let us give the people some say in the operation of their government. We have the opportunity to do it now, and we should do it now.

Mr. President, I think, instead of rambling the way I seem to be going along, I could best indicate to you what the feelings of the citizens of the city of Philadelphia are by reading an editorial in the Evening Bulletin.

> "When the Committee of Fifteen punched a little peephole through the iron curtain behind which Philadelphia's city government operates, the public got a momentary glimpse of tax thefts and other disturbing conditions.
> "As a result of these disclosures there was a wave of popular indignation. Organization spokesmen were in a chastened mood. Republican City Chairman Meade exhorted his followers about the 'flagrant and scandalous conditions' that prevailed. He spoke of 'rank, unsavory disregard for public trust.' He referred to 'open and calculated theft of public funds.' He warned them that 'we, the Republican party in Philadelphia, collectively and individually, face loss of public trust.'
> "That was back in May. The development of that period gave impetus to widespread demand for thoroughgoing reform of the City's government system. The Legislature was to meet in January. Then, Philadelphians thought, we would advance constitutional City-County consolidation and meanwhile get a new charter that would in the meantime erect safeguards against long-practiced abuses.
> "Something resembling the legislation then expected is now in process of enactment. But the Organization has cast aside its sackcloth and ashes. It has an eye on preserving the power, and especially the patronage, it has long enjoyed. We are told that county government is to be preserved as a separate entity. We are to have a charter commission appointed by the Mayor and Council. Council is to preserve power over any proposed amendments. What Philadelphia is now promised when it asks for bread looks very much like a stone.
> "Is it so certain that the storm has blown over? Are the people going to be content with half-measures?
> "It is more reasonable to suppose that the people's desire for an effective governmental set-up did not die with the Committee of Fifteen, and that we are experiencing a lull, not the passing of the storm."

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I say to you as sincerely as I know how, that if you are in favor of home rule, you cannot vote for Senate Bill No. 5, and I ask each of you, therefore, to vote against that bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not going to get into this strictly Philadelphia fight, except to read an article that appeared the other day in one of the Philadelphia papers, written by Earl Selby, of the Philadelphia Bulletin. It is very important to the Members of the Senate to hear this particular article, and I quote from the newspaper:

"SOMETHING TO WATCH: Senator Kephart put in a long distance call from Harrisburg for an off-the record chat with the Economy League's Charlton Chute. The topic was the so-called 'home rule bill,' which as now drafted requires all charter changes to be okayed by City Council before they are submitted to the voters.

"'Would you,' asked Kephart, 'sound out the other civic groups on how they feel about the bill?' And then, apparently mindful of some criticism directed at the proposal Kephart said:

"'Ask them if they want this bill—or no bill at all . . .'

"Chute said he'd ask the other groups. No formal reply is ready yet, but the Committee of 70's Harry Butcher is saying: 'This bill is no real home rule bill for the people. All it actually does is give home rule to City Council . . .'"

Mr. President, we rest our case.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, for reading that excerpt, because the very last line of it is very explanatory, and it says there that we are giving home rule to the City Council. Well, who else would you give home rule in Philadelphia to? Who is going to make the laws for Philadelphia except the elected representatives of the people? That is how laws are made in Harrisburg, and that is how laws are made in Congress, and if that is not home rule, I do not know what is.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the bill now before the Senate, Senate Bill No. 497, was first reported to the floor on March 22, and has been amended and passed over on five different legislative days. It is a measure that confuses me, and I believe many other Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, I have been beseeched by members of the fairer sex since March 22, and pleasantly so, to vote for and against this measure. I have found that practical nurses have been for and against the measure, registered nurses have been for and against the measure, and representatives of the various hospitals throughout the state have been for and against the measure.

I have been confused, and so being confused and seeking an answer, I have applied myself and finally decided that in the best interests of the people of the Commonwealth, our constituents, this bill should be voted down.

Mr. President, here today on the floor of the Senate we find that the bill provides, not as the proponents would have you believe, for a greater degree of efficiency in the nursing profession in the state but it actually detracts therefrom and will lead to the gradual degradation of this profession in the state. It provides for the licensing of nurses after one year of high school training and nine months of specialized training. It provides that a minimum of two years, plus four years high school training, rather than three years plus four years high school training, is all that would be required to receive a registered nurses certificate in the state. It seems to me that the move and the motivating purpose behind the sponsors of this bill is to receive for the hospitals in the state cheaper labor. They have said it will mean more efficiency in the home nursing, because of the passage of this bill. Now, I seriously question that contention. They tell us that it will mean cheaper professional nursing in the home, and I seriously question that contention, on the basis that I do not believe that nurses who are now working in the home for three or four or five dollars a day, will in any way cheapen themselves and their labor and their regard for themselves and their profession, once they are licensed. I believe it will cost us more for the home bedside nursing than it does today. I believe it will eventually mean the elimination of registered nurses of the high standards of which we are justly proud if this bill is passed, and I base my contention on the fact that today you must have a high school education and three years training to become a registered nurse. If this bill passes, you can become a licensed nurse and work in the hospitals in this state with only one year's high school training and nine months specialized training, and no girl, at least the great majority of girls contemplating entering the nursing profession, certainly would not consider spending four years of high school and two years, upon the passage of this act, in training without compensation, to receive work in a hospital, when they could receive the same employment at a slightly cheaper rate of pay, with one year in high school and nine months specialized training.

Mr. President, I believe that this bill is not a good bill for the people of Pennsylvania. It is sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association, the officers of whom are all, to my knowledge, either supervisors or assistant supervisors in hospitals or state institutions throughout the state, or totally on the pay roll of the Association. I believe it is simply a move by the hospitals of the state to receive cheap labor at the expense of the infirm and ill of the state.

Mr. President, the state of Ohio considered such a measure, but they went about it a little differently than we here in Pennsylvania. The State Nurses Association in Ohio polled the nurses throughout the State, the registered nurses in the state, and the vote was two to one against adopting a measure such as this. A sad experience occurred in the state of New York. In the year 1939 New York passed a similar licensing bill, and as a result we find that the hospitals in New York are staffed to a great extent by practical licensed nurses rather than registered nurses who are competently trained and supervised by registered nurses with college degrees. In other words, in New York the nursing profession and the care of the sick and the invalid in the institutions of the state have suffered because of the passage of a similar bill, and I hope that we in Pennsylvania do not have the same experience.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I think that the argument of the Senator from Lawrence is ill founded. As a physician I think I can prescribe better for him than he can prescribe for himself.

Now, Mr. President, let us just see who are in favor of this bill. First, the Secretary of Health, Dr. Vaux. Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs. Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Profesisonal Women's Clubs. Hospital Council of Western Pennsylvania. Medical Society of the state of New York, and numerous county organizations of nurses, who are one hundred percent in favor of this bill.

Now, Mr. President, we have heard some of the letters read that nurses are against this bill. Let us see just who are against this bill. The Chicago Correspondence School for Nurses. A group of registered private nurses from Philadelphia with an affiliate group in Pittsburgh representing less than two hundred nurses. A small undergraduate group in Pittsburgh protest the bill for reasons which are not clearly defined. A minority of hospital administrators oppose the bill and their reasons are not clearly defined. Some maintain that they never hire practical nurses, which is their prerogative under this bill.

Mr. President, at the present time, the hospitals in Pennsylvania need practical nurses. The registered nurses are taking up their time performing menial work, changing beds and so on, which the practical nurses can do, and still at the same time they are taught the rudiments of antiseptics and how to give drugs, and to note the reaction of patients which are put under their charge.

Mr. President, a representative of one of the largest hospitals in Philadelphia came to see me, The Philadelphia General Hospital. By the way, they are not on the state-aided list, but they said that if this bill did not pass, with the few patients that are neurotic, which are to be taken care of in the various mental hospitals, also some tuberculosis patients which we have room for in our sanatoria, they will be obliged to apply to the state for $1,500,000 in order to run their hospital, but with the enactment of these bill, these other things would have been taken care of, and they would not ask the state of Pennsylvania for one cent for support.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote for this bill.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I wish to corroborate the statement of the gentleman from Warren, Senator Chapman.

The gentleman he is referring to is a man of very high reputation. I was confronted with the same problem as the gentleman from Lawrence, Senator Neff, and I requested that he explain to me the position that I should take in this legislation, and he feels that these bills will greatly aid the nursing problem in the hospitals in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, the name of the gentleman referred to by Senator Chapman is Dr. Pascal F. Lucchesi, who is Superintendent and Medical Director of the Philadelphia General Hospital.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I hate to take opposition, to my good friend Dr. Chapman, but I just cannot agree, and Senator Chapman and I have talked this matter over.

I, too, have had a lot of correspondence from the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association, and I found out that they also had an editorial, but this editorial later on was recinded in favor of this bill. I have a letter here from the Graduate Nurses Association of Pennsylvania and they also claim that they are not for the bill.

In addition to that, Mr. President, I have a very interesting letter from a man whom all of us, I believe, have a very high respect for and a great deal of regard, and that gentleman is Gale H. Walker, Superintendent of the Polk State School, one of the schools of the state which has done a lot of good work and which is very undermanned, and I would like to read the letter:

"In a recent meeting of superintendents of institutions and the Department of Welfare, the subject of the proposed bill for modification of the Nurse's Law came up for discussion and a committee of superintendents was appointed to study the legislation and report to the Secretary of Welfare and the Director of the Bureau of Mental Health concerning the affect it would have on operation of State Mental Institutions. Dr. Robert H. Israel, Superintendent of Warren State Hospital, was appointed Chairman of the committee. As you know, the Department of Welfare through the Bureau of Mental Health represents 43,600 hospital patients of Pennsylvania's average daily hospital census of 80,600.

"The proposed bill for the licensure of practical nurses was discussed and it was the unanimous opinion of the superintendents that the bill in its proposed form is highly inimical to the future welfare of our patients.

"The committee feels strongly that a great deal of damage will ensue if the bill is not radically altered, particularly as it affects the institutions under operation of the Department of Welfare.

"If this bill be passed, it is of particular importance to the welfare of our patients that a specific clause be inserted exempting all institutions under the Bureau of Mental Health from its application.

"The type of care which our patients require and which is usually described under the general head of "Nursing Service" is largely performed by our attendants and this bill will continue to be true for an indefinite period in the future. It is neither possible nor desirable to have nurses supervise all wards and, in addition, neither the hospital budgets nor the supply of nurses would permit this type of administration. The graduates of the three years' nursing program fill certain definite needs in mental institutions. It appears theoretical or practical experience in handling mental patients to be of particular value to mental institutions.

"There is every reason to believe that well-trained attendants, who have been schooled to cope with our special problems, will be much more competent. Any law which might be interpreted to interfere with the use of this type of personnel would be certain to result in marked injury to the administration of the hospitals and to the adequate care of the patients for whose recovery we are responsible.

"If there are any hearings on this bill, it would seem that Doctor Israel, as Chairman of the Committee, should have the opportunity of voicing the facts solicited by his study and of his committee.

Very truly yours,

GALE H. WALKER, M.D.,
Superintendent."

Now, Mr. President, I do believe that a great number of the Members of this Senate are not really capable or competent enough at this time to vote on this bill. I believe we should have had a public hearing, because it is taking a grave step. The hospitals have, under the Act of 1927, the right to have hospital attendants, but they are not using it, and I do not see why now they would come and say we should have a second grade classification of nurses to use them as attendants. I think that they are called licensed attendants under the Act which was passed during the Fisher regime in 1927. They have that right now under Act 477, and that is all they are asking for again.

Mr. President, I think we are going to confuse the public when we have two sets of nurses; we are going to have a RN nurse, a registered nurse, and we are going to have a PN nurse, a practical nurse, but the average man on the street, after all he talks about a nurse as a nurse and he looks upon them as nurses, but when you have two classifications, a first and second grade nurse, I think it is going to be very confusing, and I think it is a step in the wrong direction.

Of course, Mr. President, we all realize that the scarcity of nurses today is a great problem, and it is a problem that we should be using all our efforts here to solve, but this is not the solution. In other words, there are other ways, I believe, that this body can make it easier for the nurses in the profession by taking away some of the menial labor that nurses have to go through before they become nurses, and raise the nursing profession, and I might add, that in the state hospitals, if we paid a decent wage, we could get more nurses, because the nursing profession is the most underpaid profession that I know of; no other profession works seven days a week as they do for the low wages that they receive.

Mr. President, I believe that this is a step in the wrong direction, because we are cheapening the nursing profession instead of helping it and inviting more people into the profession.

Mr. President, I think we should have at least had a public hearing to hear both sides of this case, so that you people may vote intelligently on it, and I ask the Members of this Senate, due to the fact that proper consideration has not been given, to vote down this bill at this time.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, yesterday afternoon I went to one of our State Hospitals to give sick communion. I rang the bell for twenty minutes to be admitted and nobody came. That was all the time I could spare. I went back this morning and rang it again for ten more minutes and finally a girl came, a nurse, and opened the door. Now I know what the reason was there, because the hospital is woefully undermanned with nurses, for the reason that there are no registered nurses that want those jobs. I believe from my knowledge of the institutions that fifty to sixty percent of the work could be done by these practical licensed nurses if we had them, and if we would give our mental institutions sufficient money that they could hire them, I believe we would be doing an untold good to those of our patients in our state hospitals.

Mr. President, I have been Chairman of The Training School of a hospital, one of the largest training schools in the state, for more than twenty years, and I know that it is hard to get girls to take up this profession. We are even offering a five year course, whereby in five years they graduate from college and from the training school as registered nurses, and have their Bachelor of Science Degree, and we have the finest living conditions in our training school of any in this state, and yet it is hard to get girls to take up this work. We have come to the point in our hospitals for a number of years where we have what we call workers, nurses-aides; they come in there and they do the menial work of the nurses because we cannot get enough girls from the regular registered nurses to carry on this menial work of scrubbing and things like nurses used to do. We have raised our educational standards to a point as high as any in the state and therefore I believe that in our hospitals, in our mental hospitals and in our homes, we could do a greater service if we had licensed practical nurses, and for my part I shall vote for this bill.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I find myself compelled to take exception to the statement made by the distinguished gentleman from Warren, Dr. Chapman and also to the contentions of my colleague, the gentleman from Berks, Senator Ruth. They have contended that the purpose of this act is to provide more nurses where there is a dearth of nurses today. There is no law or any other reason that can prevent a hospital, physician or other consumers from employing practical nurses. They are as close as your closest phone. There is no law that prevents a hospital from giving in-training to as many auxiliary workers or aides and utilizing their services. What then is the purpose of this bill? Hospitals and consumers of nursing services can employ whoever they want today, but will they be able to do so if this bill is enacted into law?

Now, Mr. President, certainly there is a scarcity of registered nurses today, but there are several reasons other than has been stated by the proponents of this bill here on the floor today. One I think, as Senator Holland pointed out, is the low rate of pay, especially in the rural communities. Another is a restriction on the number of training schools and applicants accepted for training in these schools of registered nurses. Certainly I do not believe that the profession or the high standards of the profession can be maintained by bringing into our hospitals in great numbers nurses with one year of high school training and nine months of specialized training to replace registered nurses as we know them now, nurses who must have four years of high school training and three of specialized training in a nursing school of the state. I think that this bill, if passed, will be a blow to a very proud and honored profession in the state of Pennsylvania and will work to the detriment of the great majority of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am quite reluctant to take issue with the Membership on this side of the House. However, I believe we have gone far afield in discussing this piece of legislation.

Mr. President, I for one have examined this bill in detail and I am supporting the contention of the gentleman from Warren, Senator Chapman, and my colleague over here, Senator Ruth. I believe that all this bill does is standardize nursing. It gives the state an opportunity to register nurses, practical nurses, and I think that is good and proper, and I for one am going to support this measure.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, in order that my vote may not be taken to put me in an anomalous position on this matter, I should like to explain it. I am going to vote against this bill. While I did vote for Senate Bill No. 497, there are some of us who feel very keenly that some provision should be made to permit the practical nurses to be represented on the Board of Licensure. The sponsor of this legislation and the people interested in it seem to think that that is wrong. We feel, or least some of us do and I am one of them, that the experience of the people in the Legislature, who represent the people in the districts of this Commonwealth, is that sometimes, whether by inadvertence or deliberately, there is discrimination in the granting of licenses and a tendency not to recognize the rights of all the people who are seeking professional licenses. Since it seems, at this juncture at least, that the only way to register our protest to not permitting these practical nurses to be represented upon this Board, is to vote "no" on this bill, I shall be among those who will so vote on this bill.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I share the opinion of my colleague from Lehigh, Senator Tallman.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, the idea of placing a practical nurse on the Registered Nurses Board reminds me of putting a justice of the peace on the Law Examiners Board. It is the same as putting an osteopath with a chiropractor. This will not do, they are not qualified. What does a practical nurse know concerning such duties until we get this Board set up? Possibly later on there may be that opportunity for the practical nurses when they are qualified. At the present time, they are not qualified to act.

Mr. President, I hope that my colleagues will all vote for this bill.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I have no desire to prolong this debate. I merely want to say this, that if these practical nurses are good enough to be licensed, then it seems to me that they are good enough to be represented.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I again support Doctor Chapman in his position today, especially upon the statement that he made, and I hope that when this chiropractors' bill comes up for consideration he will try to have the chiropractors examined by Medical Doctors.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill in the happy hope that at some near future date that those persons whom I might say are in authority and have to do with legislation will consider a pay raiser for the Members of the General Assembly.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to explain my vote. The reason I voted against this pay raise, the only one I think I have ever voted against in the Legislature, is that these men on this Milk Control Commission are not on the job. Why do the people of Pittsburgh pay two and one-half cents more for a quart of milk in the summer months than the people in the neighboring city of Cleveland, when the source of the supply of the milk comes from the same dairy farmers?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

Mr. CROWE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we discussed this bill in detail in Caucus, and I have yet to receive a satisfactory explanation. I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain in detail just what the bill does.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, this bill simply permits the Insurance Commission to pass on the exchange of insurance securities, and pass on increases in capital stock of Pennsylvania insurance companies. At the same time, it saves money, and makes it much easier for our Pennsylvania insurance companies.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1383) entitled "An act to protect the health safety and welfare of the public by empowering and authorizing the Water and Power Resources Board of the Department of Forests and Waters to act as the agency of the Commonwealth to carry into effect a project to correct the existing and prevent the future silting of the Schuylkill River and its tributaries by wastes from anthracite coal mining operations defining the powers and duties of said board authorizing purchase or condemnation of necessary properties easements rights and right-of-ways and making an appropriation" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not hope to influence any votes, but I intend to vote "no" on this bill. As I read the bill and as I understand the operations of the Schuylkill River, this means the men who are now dredging that river for legitimate coal, who take it out of the river, make briquettes out of it and sell it to people along the valley, will now be prohibited from doing this very necessary operation, because in the opinion of some people, it is interfering with the job that is being done by the much touted Admiral in charge of the Schuylkill River Navy. It seems to me, Mr. President, if we had approached that job from the beginning on the same basis as these men who have approached it from the receiving or taking from the river valuable minerals and re-selling these minerals, it would have saved the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania untold millions of dollars.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. President, would the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, please bring me up to date as to just whereabouts on the Schuylkill River they are removing coal out of which they are manufacturing briquettes?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the only thing I have to back me up is a letter that is in my office stating it is being done on the Schuylkill River, and can be done to the tune of 300,000,000 tons of coal.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. President, I do not want to dispute anything that his informant might have said; what I think his informant meant to say is that it is potentially possible, but I do not think they are manufacturing briquettes on the Schuylkill at the moment.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Wood.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the gentleman tell me why this bill is necessary if no one else is dredging the Schuylkill River except Mr. Draemel at this moment?

Mr. WOOD. Well, Mr. President, I would imagine the answer to that is obvious. We are sinking $35,000,000, and we want an unchallenged right of way.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly, but it seems to me if no one else but the Admiral is dredging the river, they certainly do not need any help from the Legislature to stop somebody from doing something they are not doing.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the statement by the distinguished Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Wood, has borne out the position I took quite a while ago when I said we are lining the bottom of the Schuylkill River with the taxpayers gold.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, would consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated? The Chair understands that the gentleman is not in the Hall of the House.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, then I desire to be recognized and debate the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is recognized for that purpose.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, the administration of the City of Pittsburgh requests that you vote against this bill. No doubt all of us would like to have as liberal a pension bill as we possibly could have for the police officers in our state and our local municipalities, if the money were available to pay for it. Then, I think it would be only right and just to vote for such a bill. But the purpose of this bill and what this bill does, it reduces the number of years that the fireman has to work in order to be eligible for a pension, from twenty-five years down to twenty years; it reduces the age at which he is eligible for pension from fifty-five years of age to fifty years of age. The last number of employees in the city of Pittsburgh police department who went on pension has an average length of service of only a trifle over twenty-six years. In other words, the average was only a little over a year longer than the time they were eligible to go on pension. So, if this bill passes, everyone of the members of the city of Pittsburgh police department will be eligible for pension that much earlier. The city will be obligated to pay those pensions for a period of five years longer. If they choose to take their pension there will be a five year longer period in which those men will not pay dues into the pension fund. The total number of employees under the Police Pension Fund at the present time, I believe, is eleven hundred and forty-four men. Even if you assume that the basic pay under the smallest pension will be taken by each man, which is one hundred dollars a month, then for each one of those eleven hundred and forty-four men you would need a total possibly of nearly six thousand dollars and would deprive the city of Pittsburgh of a period of five years from the payment of contributions.

The budget of the city of Pittsburgh is balanced at the present time, but it is just balanced, and there is no surplus to kick around. Last year the city of Pittsburgh gave a raise to every city employe it possibly could. The raises were not munificient, they were not enough to take care of the increase in the cost of living. Actually, if you vote for this bill you are depriving the city employes of Pittsburgh of possible future raises. You are depriving the city of Pittsburgh of the opporunity of using this money for other things which the city would like to spend. There is no money available to pay for this bill. The sum of money involved here, I cannot tell you, but it is a sum that could be very harmful to the city of Pittsburgh. If you believe in home rule for the city of Pittsburgh, don't just believe in it from the sense of the right to levy taxes, but also to give the elected officials the right to dispense the money as they see fit. They are responsible to the taxpayers and not you gentlemen. Therefore, I request if at all possible that you vote against this bill.

Mr. SCHUSTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Dalrymple.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I heard the gentleman speak in regard to firemen a while ago and about the officials of the city of Pittsburgh. This is nothing but a pension bill to which the men of that department are entitled. They find enough taxes to levy on the people of the city of Pittsburgh, also in my own city, for necessary purposes, and if it is necessary that they should raise taxes for this purpose, I think they should do so. The men working in this department in city government are entitled to a pension and they should have one, and I do not think the city of Pittsburgh is in such financial straits that they cannot afford to pay for this.

We had a similar bill some few days ago before this House, as I recall, affecting the third class city police departments, including the police department in my city, which is a third class city, the largest third class city in the state. It is well financed and is well prepared to take care of any fund for the members of that department who ought to retire. I think that any city government official who wants to do a job for this necessary arm of the city government, he should do something towards the passage of this bill. I do not think it is unfair; I do not think it is going to be burdensome from the standpoint of taxation. I think it is a well worth while move to protect the men who have served faithfully in that department for this period of years, therefor I object to the gentleman's request to vote against the bill, and I ask the Members of the House to vote for it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the consuming interest that the gentleman from Erie has in the affairs of the city of Pittsburgh. I do not imagine that he is running for mayor of the city of Pittsburgh—probably Erie. He would probably be able to speak with more authority concerning the affairs of third class cities. He represents one in part; I represent one in part.

I would have objected very strenously if the leadership of Allegheny County had attempted to formulate a retirement policy for and on behalf of third class cities. I think that Pittsburgh is more competent to judge of its financial conditions, what it can spend and what it cannot spend, than any representative of a third class city, who confesses that he knows little or nothing about the finances of the city concerning which he would legislate.

I have profound respect for his Honor, the mayor of Pittsburgh. I think he has been as much inclined to overspend as underspend. I think the administration of Pittsburgh has been as liberal an administration so far as city employes are concerned; has been as liberal as far as legislation that protects the welfare of the people, so far as it affects those who work for a living and in so far as it is humanly possible for those who must pay taxes. So when the persons who are responsible for the administration of the affairs of Pittsburgh say that this bill imposes upon them a financial burden which they are not prepared to share, I say they are better able to judge and I say their word should mean more than the casual observation of someone from a third class city who would presume to dictate the course which a second class city must needs follow. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I am voting against this bill.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, I won't expatiate at length on this bill. I am quite sure that the Members of the Police Department of the city of Pittsburgh are very thankful for the last bill which was passed, although I am not sure that the taxpayers of the city of Pittsburgh are similarly thankful.

This particular bill, House Bill 652, cannot, as I see it, do the members of the Police Department of the city of Pittsburgh any good. The only thing that I can see that the bill does is to remove the sum of seven hundred and ninety thousand dollars from the control of the city council of Pittsburgh.

Again, I say that if you are interested in home rule and believe that the locally elected officials should have control of the moneys of the city of Pittsburgh, you should vote against this bill.

This particular bill, I might say, provides that a sum of some seven hundred ninety thousand dollars that was contributed by members of the police pension fund prior to 1947 shall be frozen and the interest on that fund shall continue to be paid into that fund, and that fund will remain there for one purpose, as I see it. The only thing is that taxpayers of the City of Pittsburgh instead of being allowed to use that sum of money for the payment of pensions, must actually tax the people of Pittsburgh to pay those pensions.

I should like to read an excerpt from a case reported in 336 Pa., page 540, known as the case of Kane vs. the City of Pittsburgh, decided in the year 1939. I won't bore you with reading the case at length but I would like to cite the following:

> "The vested right of an employee to a pension fund cannot be disturbed by legislation, and that vested right of an employee is a vested right against the city of Pittsburgh."

The city of Pittsburgh and the taxpayers of the city of Pittsburgh must pay those pensions, regardless of any fund they created.

Mr. Speaker, the whole thing in this bill is to prevent the city council of the city of Pittsburgh from having any jurisdiction over that fund. It is very easy to say, "Well, that money is contributed by those policemen," but the actual fact is that the old police pension fund was bankrupted, it was heading for bankruptcy, it was not self sustaining. Those charges were put upon the taxpayers of the city of Pittsburgh. If the taxpayers are going to take over all the liabilities of the pension fund they certainly should have the right to take over all the assets. You have already voted for a continuation of the liability for the city of Pittsburgh of nearly six million dollars. That was the effect of the previous bill. This is a three quarter million dollar bill. It cannot do the police officers any good. All it can possibly do is to deprive the city of Pittsburgh of the control of its financial affairs in this respect, and I ask you, therefore, gentlemen of the House, to respect the principle of home rule and vote against this bill.

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, this money that Mr. Brandon speaks of belongs to the policemen; it is their own money. When the Committee on Second Class County and Cities held a hearing on this bill for the city of Pittsburgh, full opportunity was given to them to discuss the matter at length. I plead in the interest of the police in the city of Pittsburgh, and for that reason I ask the Members of the House to support this bill.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 675, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin to make surveys and investigations to determine and report on the feasibility and advisability of the future construction of an integrated water project designed to meet the combined prospective water supply requirements of political subdivisions and metropolitan areas in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York and New Jersey within and outside of said Basin empowering such Commission to enter upon lands structures and waters fixing the responsibility for damages resulting therefrom and making an appropriation to such Commission

Whereas political subdivisions and metropolitan areas in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York and New Jersey are constantly confronted with the problem of obtaining and providing an adequate and satisfactory supply of water both for domestic and industrial purposes to meet existing and prospective requirements of the people within their borders and

Whereas the waters of the Delaware River Basin are the property of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York and New Jersey and a logical and attractive future source of water for certain political subdivisions and metropolitan areas in each of such states and

Whereas the United States Supreme Court in its decision in the Delaware River Case (U S 283 U S 336) confirmed the principle that the use of the waters of the Upper Delaware River Basin for water supply has precedence over all other purposes and

Whereas agencies other than the said States and their political subdivisions have recently advanced or sought to secure approval of projects involving the construction of dams and reservoirs for the development of the waters of the Upper Delaware River Basin for purposes other than water supply which if effectuated might interfere with and seriously jeopardize the rights and interests of said States and their political subdivisions and metropolitan areas in the matter of obtaining and providing adequate and suitable sources of water supply and

Whereas the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York and New Jersey has each created and now maintains a commission (or committee) on interstate cooperation for the purpose of promoting cooperation among said States respectively and among other states of the union in various fields of governmental operations including the utilization control and conservation of the water resources of interstate river systems and

Whereas said commissions (or committee) on interstate cooperation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York and New Jersey (and also the State of Delaware) have organized and established and are now maintaining an instrument of governmental machinery known as "The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin" for the purpose among other things of formulating integrated policies and programs for the mutual and beneficial protection of the water resources of the Delaware River Basin for water supply and incidental purposes therefore

Section 1 Authorization for Surveys and Investigations The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin is hereby designated as the agency and instrumentality of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to cooperate with the State of New York and the State of New Jersey and in this capacity is hereby authorized and directed to make or conduct or cause to be made or conducted such surveys and investigations as may be necessary for the Commission to determine and report on the feasibility and advisability of the future construction of an integrated water project within the Delaware River Basin above Trenton New Jersey Morrisville Pennsylvania comprised of a dam and reservoir or a series of dams and reservoirs on both the tributaries and the main channel of the Delaware River designed among other purposes to meet the combined prospective water supply requirements of political subdivisions and metropolitan areas in the Commonwealth and such States both within and outside of such Basin The cost of such surveys and investigations shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) of which one-third shall be borne by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and not more than one-half of such aggregate sum shall be expended by the Commission in any one year The work involved in the conduct of such surveys and investigations may be done and performed by the staff and personnel of such Commission or by persons firms or corporations retained or employed by the Commission for such purpose No contract for such surveys and investigations shall be awarded by the Commission unless and until the proposals plans and specifications for such surveys and investigations shall be submitted to and approved in writing by the Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania No such contract shall be valid unless executed by the Chairman of the Commission and by a Vice-Chairman of such Commission representing each of the two States other than the State represented by the Chairman

Section 2 Indemnity by Engineers and Contractors The Commission shall require any person firm or corporation engaged by it in a consulting or contracting capacity to conduct any such survey investigation or other service to enter into a written agreement therefor with the Commission which shall among other things provide that such person firm or corporation will (a) assume bear and pay all damages of any kind arising out of any work performed for the Commission under the provisions of this act and will assume the defense of and save harmless the Commission and each officer member and employe thereof and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York and New Jersey from and against all claims for damages of any kind arising out of any work performed by the Commission under the provisions of this act and (b) procure and furnish to the Commission a surety bond in a solvent company approved by the Commission in such amount fixed by the Commission as may be deemed sufficient to ensure the faithful performance of such contract and all of the terms conditions obligations and covenants thereof

NOT VOTING—1

Krise,

The maority required by the Constiution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 780, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections seven and eighteen of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 1024), entitled "An act to protect the public health and welfare, by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments, with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment; by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work; by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others; by prescribing penalties for violations thereof; by defining the procedure in prosecutions; and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof," by deleting the wartime provision increasing hours of labor and temporarily suspending certain restrictions on employment and changing the penalty provisions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Kemp, or anyone else wo may be in charge of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Herman. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. Herman. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I understood at a meeting of the Labor Relations Committee that this bill was a department bill. If that is the case, what reason does the department have for decreasing the age limit with respect to females in certain industries in Pennsylvania from 21 to 18 years?

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this amendment, it does not decrease the age of the females. In 1947 the Act was amended so that the section at that time required women to be over twenty-one to work from six in the morning until nine in the evening, and it was amended to read from eighteen to twenty-one. The penalty provisions were not changed. That is the reason the change was made today from twenty-one to eighteen.

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, is this a correctional change?

Mr. HERMAN. It is a correctional change, Mr. Speaker, as I understand it.

Mr. EVANS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can this bill be held over until we can ascertain whether this is or is not a correctional change.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, this bill will be passed over. The Chair withdraws its decision as to the bill having passed the House on third reading, if there are no objection, and the bill will be passed over The Chair hears none and the bill is passed over.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 877, entitled:

An Act to amend sections five, ten and twenty-two of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 665), entitled "An act relating to the performance of industrial work in homes; regulating, and in certain cases prohibiting, industrial homework; imposing duties, restrictions, and liabilities on industrial home-workers and on persons, partnerships, associations and corporations, directly or indirectly furnishing materials and articles to home-workers for manufacture or work thereon; requiring permits and home-workers' certificates and prescribing the fees therefor; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry; and prescribing penalties," by providing for exemptions in certain cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, this bill looks like a good bill on the surface, as it gives to handicapped workers the right to have employment in his or her home. But the principle behind this bill is entirely wrong. There was a time when in this State work was placed in the home and it led to the institution of the sweat shop in industry. At that time you could find a sewing machine or an ironer in almost every home in certain sections of the State.

And as a result of this practice there was a breakdown of the wage structure. And a letdown in the safety provisions of the law, because it was impossible to police this home work. Now there is no one, at least myself, who wants to deny to physically handicapped workers the right of employment, but in our modern method of production there are plenty of places where these people can be employed and receive wages that are in line with wages paid in similar industries in the State.

If this bill is passed what is there to prevent other workers in the same family, or neighbors for that matter, from doing this work at a lower rate of wage than that paid in places where they have a union contract for this same work? For under this bill there could not be proper supervision of the industry. And it also exempts the employer working under this arrangement from the necessity of determining whether or not the particular work done is injurious to the health and safety of the worker.

We had plenty of trouble getting rid of the sweat shop conditions in the State, and I am fearful if this bill passes it would throw the door wide open for the return of the sweat shop. As I understand it there is now regulations covering certain types of home work which I understand is fair. So I see no reason for broadening the scope, especially when there will be no adequate policing powers and there is always the possibility of the return of the sweat shop and the breaking down of union contracts. In an industry that has had favorable relations between employees and employer for at least ten years if this bill passes it could be the means of the breakdown of amicable relations between these employees and employers and a gradual breakdown of the wage structure within these industries. Therefore I am asking the Members of this House to vote against this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is essentially defective because it does not carry a unit of production payment. If an arrangement like this were to be sanctioned, then the bill should carry a provision that those that do home work should be paid the same unit production cost that is paid by an establishment that employs union labor. There is no sound reason, in fact there are abundant reasons why it is uneconomical to sanction any arrangement that will make it possible for a few handicapped persons to place themselves in a position where they will work at a price lower than the going wage paid in an established industry, and until there is a guaranty as to the wage that the home worker receives, this bill should not pass.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, this is an amendment sponsored by the Department of Labor and Industry on industrial home work. It does not relax the regulations in the slightest particular. As the law is now, any industry which parcels out home work must pay a fee of two hundred dollars for so doing. All this bill proposes to do is to remove the requirement for paying the two hundred dollar fee when the people employed are handicapped or disabled persons and cannot go to the industry. This is a method to rehabilitate the World War veterans as much as anything else and I ask the Members of this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, might I ask the gentleman when why it would be inexpedient to write into the bill a provision that the home worker should be paid on a comparable basis to those who work in a factory.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HERMAN. I don't know that that is not the law right now. This act makes no change in the substance of the bill in that respect. I will be glad to hold the bill over for another day.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, my only objection to this bill is I don't know, if this bill passes, that the home worker will receive the same pay per unit that the factory worker receives. If that were the case I would have no objection to the bill.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the Department of Labor and Industry says that the home worker does receive the same rate, but I will be glad to hold the bill over.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to have the bill passed over?

Mr. HERMAN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. The Chair withdraws its decision as to the House having agreed to the bill on third reading. If there are no objections this bill will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sax.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SAX. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me whether there has been any estimate by actuaries as to the cost of operating the increase under this bill?

Mr. SAX. Mr. Speaker, the estimated increase under this bill is approximately one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars a year.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me how this additional sum will be obtained.

Mr. SAX. Mr. Speaker, the employes in the city of Philadelphia will pay one half of one percent in addition to their present money that is given to the State fund, which will bring in approximately one hundred twenty thousand dollars a year.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, will there be any additional contributions required of the city itself to maintain the pension fund to the point where these additional payment will be made to the beneficiaries?

Mr. SAX. Mr. Speaker, the city of Philadelphia will gain possibly the sum of fifteen thousand dollars a year.

Mr. ROSE. I thank the gentleman. Mr. Speaker, in the not too distant future we are hoping that a considerable number of the city employes in the city of Philadelphia will be retired by the electorate. Therefore, I think this bill is a worthwhile measure and I ask you to support it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Thompson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, the city of Pittsburgh at the present time has a civil service commission for practically all employes in the Police Department, with the exception of the Detective Bureau, Inspectors and Women Police Officers?

Mr. THOMPSON. I believe that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, is that at the present time a going operation of the Civil Service that adequately protects the city employes and the policemen from political reprisal of any kind?

Mr. THOMPSON. To a certain extent, Mr. Speaker, but it does not protect the city detectives or inspectors. As to women police officers, if you are talking about the school police——

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, under the terms of this bill, are all promotions of any kind made subject to competitive examination?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean under the terms of House Bill 1194?

Mr. BRANDON. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. THOMPSON. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know of any way under a competitive examination that the city could reward city police officers for the faithful performance of duty or for outstanding performance of duty by the terms of a competitive examination?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, an officer who does his duty and can pass the necessary examination and put himself in position for a promotion, that is right.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, under this bill, isn't it mandatory upon the city to promote the highest person on a competitive examination, regardless of his previous performance, or his capacity on a lower job?

Mr. THOMPSON. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRANDON. In other words, there is no way that the city by promotion could reward a diligent employe?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, every employe is considered to be diligent and considered to do his duty properly. Under civil service he goes to the top of the list, and if he hasn't done his duty he is penalized.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if under the terms of this bill, they do not provide for a trial much similar to those which presently exist in the Trial Board of the Fire Department and Police Department of the city of Pittsburgh?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not change the set up of the Trial Board whatsoever.

Mr. BRANDON. It remains the same, does it Mr. Speaker?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, it is exactly the same except there is an appeal to a common police court.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, under section two of this bill I believe that all present rules and regulations of the civil service commission of Pittsburgh are frozen and can never be changed?

Mr. THOMPSON. I wouldn't say exactly that, Mr. Speaker, but they stand just exactly as they are.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, that means that the civil service commission has no right to change the present rules and regulations in case of fire or any public catastrophe; they would have no authority to change the present rules and regulations is that right?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, is that correct that——

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, I am doing the asking. Will the gentleman please answer my question?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I will say this, to the best of my knowledge it does not change the present set up in the civil service procedure, except that it includes under civil service city detectives and inspectors.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Allegheny regard a police inspector as a policy making official in the sense of having wide powers?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, the police inspector is in charge of his district. He is the crux of the whole matter. Whatever he wants to have done in that district is done.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, in other words, if the city administration in the city of Pittsburgh has no control over the police inspectors, then it has no control over the department?

Mr. THOMPSON. That is correct Mr. Speaker, that is exactly what we want in good government.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to deprive the city administration of any control of the police department, is that not correct?

Mr. THOMPSON. No, Mr. Speaker, the city administration has the authority to appoint the Superintendent of Police, the chief deputy and chief clerk. As it is at the present time, your inspectors are now under the control of the ward chairmen. This eliminates that.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman still not say that what the inspector wants done in his district is what is done? This bill prohibits the administration from making a change of any inspector, is that correct?

Mr. THOMPSON. No, Mr. Speaker, if he does not do his job he is subjected to trial by the trial board the same as any policeman.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, the only person who would try him would be the Board of Inspectors?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, or the Superintendent of Police; either his equal in rank or above it.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, any time civil service is up for consideration, it is always looked upon as necessarily a good bill. Actually if this bill were introduced for the purpose of civil service reform, then it would have perhaps a much greater appeal than this present bill does. The administration of the city of Pittsburgh has consistently followed the civil service provisions applying to the police department. I believe at the present time there are seven positions before this bill was introduced to be included under civil service. But this bill is in no sense a civil service bill. We have civil service in Pittsburgh now. This bill is contrariwise a straight jacket. Its sole purpose is to prevent the city administration from having control over the police in the city of Pittsburgh. How can it be said, if you elect a mayor who is responsible for the public safety and then pass a bill here and say that the mayor cannot fire that inspector or demote him?

Another thing to show the animus with which this bill was introduced, its true purpose is not civil service reform. The city of Pittsburgh has sixty two pages of regulations covering all civil service employees. It covers all of them; it makes no exception; it covers all of them. The purpose of this bill, as I see it, is making it impossible for the city to change any civil service regulations and actually freeze them, so that no matter what happens in the future the city cannot make any changes in the present city civil service rules. That is what section two does.

Mr. Speaker, how can you possibly vote for a bill that would straight jacket the responsible officials, the heads of the departments, so that they cannot control their particular departments? Therefore, gentlemen, not because it is a civil service bill, but because it is not a civil service bill and is a straight jacket bill and not introduced with any idea of promoting civil service reform, but contrariwise, I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, if civil service has any merit at all, it is just exactly what the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brandon, calls freezing men in their jobs. That is just the purpose of civil service, to protect that man on his job so that he can do his duty without fear of being penalized for it. If any employe under civil service does not conform to the regulations, if he ducks his job, if he does things contrary to what he should do, then he is subject to being penalized before the trial board, and that is what the trial board is for.

Mr. Speaker, the only changes I can see in this bill made in the present set-up in Pittsburgh is that it includes under civil service, city detectives and district inspectors. Those men are not now included in civil service in the city of Pittsburgh. The very crux of the whole matter, as I said a moment ago, is in these inspectors and the city detectives. These men are subject to being penalized by the political whims of various ward chairmen and city officials. They cannot do their job properly. In Pittsburgh a great many times in the recent past, I have read in newspapers; as a matter of fact, last fall we had a grand jury investigation in Pittsburgh, and only a week ago, I read in one of the Pittsburgh daily papers, that the numbers joints were opening up again, this investigation having been out of the way for some time. So far as I can see, this bill now, really makes civil service effective in the city of Pittsburgh; it takes care of all of the police officers; they are promoted on merit and they are protected in their jobs if they can do their duty. I ask you all to vote for this bill.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be further interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRANDON. Mr. Speaker, is there any inspector in the city of Pittsburgh at the present time whom the gentleman does not regard as a qualified police officer?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I must say that I am not acquainted with the different inspectors of the city of Pittsburgh to answer that question.

Mr. BRANDON. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, I suggest to the Members of the House that if at the present time we have inspectors who are qualified police officers, we have achieved them even without civil service provisions. I would say that if the mayor is responsible for the police department he must have control over them. If he does not control the inspectors he does not control the police department. Mr. Thompson admits that. There is no way that the city of Pittsburgh can discharge its duty unless it has the power. Responsibility without power is a fruitless thing.

Therefore, I ask the Members of the House to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Krise,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1287, as follows:

An Act to repeal the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 131) entitled "An act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in Delaware County and fixing a penalty for violation of the act" so far as the same relates to Delaware County

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 131) entitled "An act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in Delaware County and fixing a penalty for violation of the act" as amended by the act approved the ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 793) is hereby repealed in so far as it relates to Delaware County

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to apologize to this side of the House. In caucus today I opposed this bill because the speed and the tempo of things put me in the class of Mr. Nagel. I wish to take back what I said in caucus and I ask the Members on this side of the House to vote for this bill, if they will do so.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Clendening.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLENDENING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Will the gentleman tell me just what the Act of 1913 was that they are now repealing?

Mr. CLENDENING. Mr. Speaker, the act of 1913 prohibits the snaring and poisoning of foxes in Delaware County.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, do you have to have a red coat and hat in order to do that?

Mr. CLENDENING. Mr. Speaker, the equipment was optional.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, is it now possible to poison one after you repeal this Act?

Mr. CLENDENING. It is, Mr. Speaker, in Delaware County only.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I think that is outrageous. You should never poison a fox.

Mr. CLENDENING. Would the gentleman from Westmoreland mind repeating his last remark?

Mr. LOVETT. You should never allow the poisoning of a fox.

Mr. CLENDENING. Would the gentleman from Westmoreland say you should never allow the poisoning of foxes?

Mr. LOVETT. That is right, Mr. Speaker, unless you had a red coat.

The SPEAKER. The British are coming.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. I am still confused and I don't know whether to vote for or against the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. O'DONNELL and McCORMACK offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1949.

Assemblyman Edward T. Gallagher, worn with the travail of recent parenthood, today wears a happy smile. He needs only five more boys to start the Gallagher baseball team on its way to victories.

At 10:55 on the evening of March 30th, at the Frankford Hospital, a slow-flying stork brought Mrs. Gallagher her fourth son. The mother and child are doing well. Less can be said for the father. He had made up his mind that he would now have a daughter. His convictions were very strong. He has reasons to regret them now.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby welcome the latest newcomer to its already length roster of legislative babies, congratulates the proud parents and wishes the fourth of the Gallagher brothers great success and much joy on the long road of life that lies before him.

It is further directed that a copy of this resolution under the Seal of this House be presented to the Honorable and Mrs. Gallagher to be held in trust for, and delivered to Michael J. Gallagher on the day he shall cast his first ballot.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gallagher.

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. O'Donnell has nothing whatever to do with it.

I want to thank the Members of the House in behalf of myself, my wife and young Michael and I can hardly wait for the day when the baseball team that I have in mind is completed.

I also want to say that I can hardly wait for another two years until the boys in our neighborhood say "Here come the Gallagher boys." I thank you very much gentlemen.

Mr. Speaker, in accordance with the usual custom of a good father, I would like to have the page boys pass out to you with my compliments a cigar or two, if they will, and before the Minority Leader interrogates me, I had the foresight to bring some pipe smoking tobacco with me.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would add his personal felicitations to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gallagher.
